Reserve transfer prompts protest from Ball Estates residents

The city's plans to transfer a reserve designation from one area to another provoked two expressions of protest during a public hearing at Monday night's regular meeting of council.

Solicitor David Ross represented Mrs. Melida Despina, a resident of Garnett Street, St. Albert. Mr. Ross stated that he found it "difficult to understand how council can purport to transfer a reserve dedication without a policy" to govern such a move. The land reserve in question is in close proximity to Mrs. Despina's property and she stated in a letter to council that she felt she could be greatly affected by the transfer.

In the letter, Mrs. Despina states that a reserve designation should not be transferred to a different area in a different plan without first having a master plan and policy of designated reserve. She also said such a plan should consider the original Ball Estate Plan and the land dedications in it.

Speaking for Mrs. Despina, Mr. Ross said that the reserve dedication was originally made in 1955, and that to change it now would "not be the right direction for council to take."

Mrs. Despina's letter and Mr. Ross both expressed concern with the city's policy on "undevelopable" land. Mr. Ross said that one end of the slough on the property had been termed "undevelopable," while the other end had been developed as a park.

Council also heard a representation from Mr. and Mrs. Ross said that one end of

Vince Maloney seeks liberal nomination

V. J. (Vince) Maloney of St. Albert will seek the Liberal nomination for Pembina constituency to contest the next Federal election. Mr. Maloney retired as superintendent of St. Albert School District #3 in 1974, after a 20 year career with the system. He is now an active member of the business community.

The Pembina Liberal nomination meeting is scheduled for early April, and the election could be called as early as May or June.

Mr. Maloney says he expects the national election will be waged on approaches to national unity and the economy. In Pembina constituency, Mr. Maloney says

The students were presented cheques by Mr. Ralph Jespersen, president of the Edmonton Milk Producers. Sir George Simpson winners Murray McCormick (above left), and Terry Clark received cheques for $250 and the Students Union received matching cheques totalling $500. Lisa Kutzner, president of the S.U. accepted the cheques on behalf of the Students Union. Some of the money is destined for a trophy case for the school. see Lorne Akins winner page 21.

Resolutions made on downtown parking

The St. Albert Municipal Planning Commission got stuck into the complex problems of downtown parking, making some important resolutions on the subject at its regular meeting last week.

The discussion on downtown parking ratios, on site and off-site, was predicted on several projects in the downtown area which have been recently approved in principle by city council.

A motion from MPC member Bill Shields, that the cost of providing permanent parking be shared with the city and the business community "in a ratio to be negotiated" was carried, as well as a motion from MPC Chairman Barry Breadner that on site parking in new developments should be provided by the developer "as a principle."

Another motion which found favour with the MPC, again from Chairman Breadner was that city staff be asked to place a recommendation to council for on site parking ratios in the downtown area.

Two point five parking lots per 1,000 square feet of business space was banded about at the commission as a "municipal standard."

Catholic Board and ATA local calling in negotiators

The money question has led to a bogging down in salary negotiations between the Catholic School District and Local 66 of the Alberta Teachers Association.

The teachers have opted to call in a bargaining agent from the provincial body to press their demands.

In response, Trustee Al Alain, chairman of the Board's Salary and Negotiations Committee, asked the Board at Monday's regular meeting to request by letter, a bargaining agent from the Alberta School Trustees Association.

The detailed particulars of the negotiations are not available to the public and the Board's discussion of these was held 'in camera' with the Gazette reporter taking leave of the room for a coffee.

When the meeting was again opened to the public, Board members passed a motion to acquire an ASTA bargaining agent to proceed with salary negotiations at such time as the ATA is ready.

Asked following the meeting what the problem was, Trustee Alain said it was a question of money which was causing the negotiations to founder. The teachers were asking for more money than the Board could pay without supplementary requisition and thus higher taxes to District ratepayers.

Mr. Alain also suggested the situation will likely be affected by decisions forthcoming from other districts now in conciliation.

Reprieve granted to Sturgeon Mall tenants

Tenant businesses at the Sturgeon Shopping Plaza are relieved today as a result of a city council decision made Monday night.

Businessmen at the Sturgeon Mall have been apprehensive since an October recommendation by the Municipal Planning Commission that would install a median in Hebert Road, with no break to allow a left turn access to the shopping centre. They considered this limited access would drastically reduce the number of customers using their centre, and one traffic consultant has estimated business could be cut in half.

The city has been reluctant to promise a break in the median, as such a move could jeopardize provincial funding of the Hebert Road widening. The province had told city officials that such a change in plan might cause them to withdraw funding from the whole project.

At Monday night's meeting, Richard Craddock, solicitor for United Management and Atlas Finance and Realty, who manages the centre, told council of a new proposal. Mr. Craddock said that if the city would permit a left turn lane access for a minimum period of five years, Atlas Finance would pay for the additional costs of provision of the left turn lane over the

Mrs. Dan Cournoyer, who own property next to the Despins. The Cournoyers expressed similar concerns. Mr. Cournoyer stated he did not see why the MPC had gone along with a plan that necessitated the replotting of the original Ball Estate plan.

"We feel we are not being dealt with openly," said Mrs. Cournoyer.

When asked by Ald. Breadner why they objected to the reserve transfer, Mr. Cournoyer said that they will be surrounded by Mason Developments if the reserve transfer takes place.

Both the Despins and the Cournoyers expressed concern that the proposed closure of Garnett Road might adversely affect their access to their land, and suggested the transfer might cause difficulty in bringing utilities and other services to their homes.

ices must reflect the needs of Western Canadian farmers today, and the federal government needs people who can tell them what those needs are," said Mr. Maloney. "Priority also must be given to encourage the location of small industry in Alberta," he said. Mr. Maloney stressed that those are key areas to assure a strong economy for Alberta in the future.

Mr. Maloney was born in Vegreville and lived on a farm in the area until he was 21. He received his early teacher training in Camrose, taught for six years in rural schools and then took time out to serve in the RCAF during World War II. After the war, he attended the University of Alberta, graduating with a Bachelor of Education degree in 1949. He served as vice-principal of Ponoka High School until 1954, when he moved to St. Albert. Mr. Maloney received a graduate diploma in administration from the University of Alberta in 1964.

The V. J. Maloney School in St. Albert carries his name, in recognition of his contribution to education and the community. Mr. Maloney served on St. Albert town council from 1959 through 1962. A member of the Chamber of Commerce, he has served as chairman of several committees.

He is the Chamber representative on the Provincial Small Business committee, which is responsible for helping untangle government red tape for small businesses.

Mr. Maloney is also chairman of the St. Albert Devonian committee which has been successful in obtaining more than $500 thousand for the development of parkland and recreational facilities. Mr. Maloney and his wife, Jeanne have eight children.

Bob Byron warned: "I do not know how any commission members could set guidelines" because of the complexity of the matter.

He termed the commission as being "back to square one on what should be offsite or on site" ratios.

Mr. Shields wondered whether it was fair "to businesses coming into the downtown, when we do not know what the parking ratio will be."

Mr. Byron said the downtown parking review was a real question for businesses which had been in the downtown for 10-15 years.

Mr. Shields also said: "Decisions will not be palatable for all participants in the downtown core."

costs the city would have spent for a continuous median. Atlas would also pay the costs of internal rearrangement of the shopping centre parking lot as well as the costs of closure of the left turn access when they arose. The city would have the right to close the access in five years time, by giving a 90 day notice.

WOULD NOT AFFECT FUNDING

Mr. Craddock emphasized that the offer was made on the condition that it did not affect the city's funding arrangements with the province as the company did not wish to jeopardize this.

In its discussion of Mr. Craddock's proposal, council considered whether the granting of such an access would set a precedent for people south of Hebert Road, who might request a similar access. Ald. Liesbeth Bakker stated she thought this would not be a problem.

Ald. Barry Breadner said that the developer had known that the access would be closed, and said that a prudent developer would have informed his tenants of the possibility. He suggested Mayor Ron Harvey received a little upgrading on St. Albert's historic past Thursday afternoon when two lovely members of the Cultural Co-operative Committee dropped in to witness the mayor proclaiming next week as Albert Lacombe Week in St. Albert. that until the median break was closed, the developer would make no attempt to find a long-term solution to the problem. Mr. Breadner moved that council approve the MPC recommendation that no median break be allowed on technical reasons.

Ald. Bill Shields said that while he had no sympathy with the developer, he felt council had an obligation to aid the small businessmen at the shopping centre. He said that he had been told it was technically feasible to leave the access open for some time yet.

Mayor Ronald Harvey said that he favoured closing the median because of the threat to provincial funding, but suggested leaving the matter until the fate of the Akinsdale south property across Hebert Road from the shopping centre was decided.

A decision on this land is expected after a land use survey has been completed and data compiled.

Ald. Shields moved that Mr. Breadner's motion to disallow the median break be tabled until the disposition of the Akinsdale south area be established. The motion carried, with Aldermen Breadner, Smith and Ayotte opposing.

Council establishes parking regulations

In future, businesses planning on locating in downtown St. Albert or who plan either expansion or a change of usage will be subject to new parking requirements. The new regulations were passed at the regular meeting of city council Monday night, after the parking issue was added to the agenda at the beginning of the meeting.

Council passed a series of resolutions which require that such businesses as the city determines to be deficient in on-site parking will be required to provide two off-site parking stalls per 1,000 square feet of floor space. The amount of on-site parking space required for each business will be decided on a basis of merit to be determined by council, using criteria established by city staff. The businesses referred to will be levied a charge of $1,000 per stall for the off-site parking they must provide. These funds will be paid into a downtown parking fund to be administered by a downtown parking authority.

The motion by Ald. Liesbeth Bakker which made reference to a parking authority evoked a response from Ald. Barry Breadner who said he was "puzzled" by the use of the term "authority," and who questioned the viability of the idea.

Ald. Margaret Smith commented the motion introduced some "new angles" and moved that Mrs. Bakker's motion be referred back to staff for more information.

This action brought a vigorous response from Ald. Bakker, who described the proposed referral as "triple ping pong."

"I'm fed up with it," said Mrs. Bakker. She added that she had obtained the information in the motion from staff data, so there was no need for it to be sent back to staff. The motion to refer was defeated.

In another motion, Ald. Bakker moved that the initial location of the central parking area be central to the downtown business district. The area being considered for the centralized off-site parking area is Lot 7, behind Sturgeon Electric on Perron Street. Costs of city centre parking will be divided between the city and businesses at a ratio to be determined by both.

Minutes of the negotiation of the parking formula will be sent to all downtown business owners and their comments will be solicited. A meeting with the businessmen and city officials is planned at a later date.

THE CITY OF St. Albert TRANSIT

CHANGE IN SCHEDULE

Effective March 6, 1978; the transit bus which leaves downtown Edmonton at 16:35 and arrives at the St. Albert Terminal at 17:10, will depart from the Terminal at 17:13 as an A10 run (St. Albert North). The A-6 (St. Albert East) run, which this transit bus presently makes at 17:13, will be replaced by a school bus and St. Albert East passengers will have to transfer at the terminal.

This change is being made to accommodate the majority of users arriving at the Terminal at 17:10, and who are travelling into the north. This change should also eliminate the present overloading of the A-10 school bus run.

City moving to rectify arena problems

Mayor Ron Harvey made a visit to the just-constructed Akinsdale Arena Monday to see for himself what the situation warranted in terms of action by the City.

The mayor arrived in time to see a Poole Construction crew deglazing the concrete slab on which the ice is made. Arena Supervisor, Jack Mussieux, explained to the Gazette that the deglazing (done at Poole's expense) was removing a film caused by a chemical reaction which occurred when water combined as a catalyst with calcium, a substance in the curing compound used earlier in the winter.

Jack also added that he hoped to have ice in the building in four or five days but that he was saying so with crossed fingers.

Mayor Harvey, in talking with the Gazette Monday, said the City had drawn up a six page list of deficiencies which would be taken up with the architects, Phillips-Barrett and the contractors, Poole Construction Ltd. Mr. Harvey sees no reason why the problems cannot be resolved by discussions among the parties.

No drastic action will be taken at the moment because the building is just newly constructed and the architects and contractors have not had an opportunity to rectify the situation.

The mayor said the public can be assured that a full report on the situation will be issued and that they will be kept informed of developments.

When the problems in design and construction have been ironed out and the building inspected by the city, the mayor is confident the residents of St. Albert will have a facility they can be proud of.

In the meantime the next tentative booking for the facility is for the St. Albert Junior Saints - Fort Saskatchewan Traders game on Tuesday, February 28.

We'll keep you posted!

Small 'copter port likely for firm

A small heliport, already in use by Calgary Power, seems as if it will get final approval soon by the City of St. Albert.

The landing pad is situated at 50 Bellerose Drive off the St. Albert Trail and at the regular Municipal Planning Commission last week. MPC moved approval of the heliport, which will then be subject to approval by the Ministry of Transport.

The site of the heliport is just inside St. Albert's limits and will be subject to visual flight regulations (VFR). That means there must be at least 1,000 feet of cloud ceiling and three miles visibility for the heliport to be used.

Calgary Power representative of MPC Chuck Jones said: "It would be one machine basically - four times a month." He referred to the heliport as a landing pad rather than a base for operations.

St. Albert Mayor Ron Harvey was generally in favour of the heliport, but wanted assurances about insurance "agreeing to hold the city harmless."

Concerning the safety factor at the heliport, Development Officer Barry Topolinski told MPD: "Because of the fact they use the Sturgeon River as the main access east or west, it's felt by MOT there will be no problem concerning the residential areas."

Urban Planner Joe Skvaril spent some time telling MPC about the changes to the Qualico portion of the Woodlands Outline Plan. These referred to a buffer on 149 Street, which would not be a 16 foot berm, rather a six foot berm with a six foot fence. Mr. Skvaril also mentioned a reduction in the number of apartment units in the plan, bringing them more into line with town housing specifications.

Work to start on seniors units

MLA Ernie Jamison announced this week that sod turning and start on construction for the St. Albert Senior Citizens accommodation will take place this spring, with completion estimated for the spring of 1979.

The project will have 53 self-contained apartment units and 44 lodge units located at the corner of Mission Avenue and Perron

Street, across from the Percy Page Centre.

Cost is expected to be in the neighbourhood of $2.8 million.

St. Albert couple win safari trip

For the price of a 12 cent stamp, a St. Albert couple has won a 25-day trip to Africa.

Last June, Jim and Shirley Neeser hurriedly filled out a form from Reader's Digest, entering themselves in the company's sweepstakes. It was a last-minute act before the Neesers left on holidays. Upon their return, they became immediately embroiled in plans for their son's wedding, and forgot all about the contest. When a notification of a registered letter came, the Neesers were so busy they nearly failed to collect the letter at the post office. However, Mrs. Neeser had second thoughts and arrived at the Post Office to get it on the day it was scheduled to be sent back as unclaimed. It was a lucky move. The letter informed the Neesers they had won the African trip, valued at $12,000.

The couple will make the safari this spring, travelling from Edmonton to London to Nairobi. During their stay, they will cover the territory by camel, swamp boat,

People on the street talk about culture

As most St. Albertans know by now, an attempt is presently underway in St. Albert to assess the cultural needs of city residents. This cultural temperature-taking is being done by the Ad Hoc Citizens Committee of Culture, under the jurisdiction of the Community Services Advisory Board.

The Gazette thought it could contribute in some small way to the work of the committee, so, armed with pad and paper, a Gazette reporter went out to quiz St. Albert residents. The questions were as follows:

"Do you think there are sufficient cultural programs in St. Albert?"

"What facilities or programs would you like to see introduced, if any?"

The results were as follows:

"Cultural facilities? Not enough!"

--Maureen Rowland.

"I think we should keep up our cultural heritage. Things can get lost if we don't practice them -- like the art of making Ukrainian Easter Eggs. Canadians are a mish-mash of everything, so I think a multi-cultural facility such as the one at Stony Plain would be great. I think such a facility should be located in one location. We can use the schools for practices but one central place is needed for performances and other things. It could be a place similar to Fort Edmonton, but not as large of course. After all, St. Albert was here before Edmonton!"

--Doreen Robinson

"More library facilities"

--Danielle Thompson.

"There isn't too much here. I like seeing live theatre."

--Jean Beck.

"Now that St. Albert is larger, we need more library facilities."

--Mrs. Hay

"We could use a theatre!"

--Mrs. Alice Kuchka.

"No, there are not sufficient cultural facilities in St. Albert. I think theatre should be at the top of the list. There are plenty of art galleries in the city. Maybe we could use a bigger library."

--Sabina Tutty.

"We need something other than the band shell!"

--Christine Heath.

"There aren't any cultural facilities. I would like to see a theatre."

--Sandy Bricker.

"Edmonton has a lot to offer. Perhaps there could be a small theatre or some folk clubs. I would like to see the taverns upgraded!"

--Dr. George.

"We find that we go to Edmonton to theatres and the symphony, so would think cultural programs and facilities here could be useful for developing local talent. There seems to be an inverse relationship between the amount of cultural programs in a town and its distance from a metropolitan centre. However, we have our own recreational facilities, so I suppose the balance between cultural and rec facilities is unequal. We place a heavy emphasis on athletics, but some kids are artistic."

--Ray and Hazel Christensen.

Lita York is presently Deputy District Commissioner and Training Chairperson. She previously served as district commissioner and St. Albert division commissioner.

Catholic school system close to bilingual program

The St. Albert Catholic School Board moved one step closer in its proposed bilingual education program at its regular board meeting Monday.

The Board Policy Committee has been studying both the educational and financial considerations of such a program and has come to the conclusion that the program is both educationally and financially feasible. Projected enrollments would fill approximately two classrooms at the Grade 1 level.

Trustee Ann Smith brought the Committee's recommendations before the Board in the form of a notice of motion. This method of introduction allows the public two weeks to provide input before the motion comes before the Board in a voting form.

In the meantime the administration will study the administrative considerations of the program and report their conclusions to the Board.

The Notice of Motion:

The Board accepts the concept that Canada is a bilingual nation and children should be given an opportunity to become linguistically functional in both official languages. To help achieve this goal, the Board will provide a French Immersion program from Kindergarten to Grade 111 where enrollments warrant. These programs shall be phased in annually starting in September 1978 with Kindergarten and Grade 1.

The agreement with the Edmonton Separate School Board will be maintained for students in grades not provided at the local level.

Objectives:

1. To develop the whole student inasmuch as he is capable, as a bilingual member of his community.

2. To develop an oral and written competency in both official languages - French and English - in all areas of living such as work, leisure, religion, politics, economics and home activities, etc.

3. To help students understand and appreciate the French and English cultures.

4. To enable students to pursue further education in either one or both languages.

Birds of all shapes and sizes have arrived early in St. Albert this year. Members of the St. Albert Arts and Crafts Guild have been creating birds in batik, clay, macrame and weaving to display at the Bird Show to be held at the Art Centre, February 23 to 26. The Guild Gallery will be open on Thursday and Friday from 7 to 9 p.m. and on Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m.

On the weekend of February 10 to 12, Les Manning, resident potter at the Banff Centre, conducted a workshop. Friday evening was open to all and Les showed slides and discussed his work. Then on Saturday and Sunday the participants sat down to work in earnest. The weekend was very stimulating and a tremendous amount was gained by all. No doubt Les Manning's ideas and influence will be displayed in future works produced by Guild members.

Six hours of patient waiting and a cheese bait resulted in a fine catch for Don Jackquart of Grandin Park on Sunday at Lacombe Park Lake. The Rainbow Trout stocked last year have been growing steadily ever since. Don estimates these two weigh in the neighbourhood of two pounds each.

Nothing definite yet on fire agreement

Nothing definite emerged last week after the MD of Sturgeon discussed a new fire agreement between itself and St. Albert at its regular meeting February 16.

It seems the MD has a verbal agreement with St. Albert for protection of the southern portions of the MD from Calahoo in the west to beyond Nampa in the east, but nothing has been firmed up in writing yet between St. Albert and the MD.

Also there is no hard information yet from the MD on what its fire protection budget might be this year, if a written agreement with St. Albert is reached.

When the fire agreement with St. Albert and the MD ended under the Plain administration, St. Albert was asking the MD to cough up about $300,000 so that St. Albert with the MD could give a "first class" fire service. That price was not popular with the MD as it would have meant about a 600 percent outlay in the fire protection budget.

At the regular meeting of the MD last week there was evidence to suggest that St. Albert and Sturgeon have a verbal fire agreement, but Reeve of the MD Bill Flynn said the MD was providing no equipment (to St. Albert).

However he added that the MD was authorizing the donation of back-up equipment.

Deputy Reeve of the MD Lawrence Kluthe suggested that some "tentative" fire boundaries might be put in place, otherwise, as Councillor Hubert Lamoureux put it, there was a "danger of all the fire departments arriving at the same fire."

Morinville is also waiting to see what happens with any new fire agreement between St. Albert and the MD of Sturgeon.

A spokesman for Morinville said last week: "Nothing is being done yet on the fire agreement ... we are waiting on Sturgeon and they are waiting till they sort out with St. Albert."

REFLECTS BELIEFS

There is a lot of public sympathy for homeowners caught in the pace of progress who find after years of quiet, low density their neighbourhood suddenly begins to erupt with apartment blocks, condominiums and townhouses. Traffic congestion, jammed schools, increasing noise levels, views cut off, open spaces filled in - these things make a marked change in a neighbourhood's "quality of life." And so, like the Despins and Cournoyers who appeared before council this week, the homeowners protest.

Overall figures on city density per acre or per neighbourhood, explained by council as good policy, are cold comfort indeed for the people who discover they are right next door to a big multiple density project.

However since property developers want to maximize profits, and since a council is receiving more assessment per acre from high density development, it is not often that individual protestors will win.

On the other hand those owning condominium units are being penalized in St. Albert on land assessment, which is three times higher than in Edmonton or Calgary. The condo owners from Grandin Village and Greenview Estates brought this to the attention of the Provincial Government during public hearings last September. They also expressed their concern to the three mayoralty candidates in the last election, all of whom agreed that they were being unfairly assessed on their land. This extra land assessment on high density may be a short lived gain.

The problem of high density is common to centres all over the continent and so is the grumbling of residents. It is bound to remain as long as the supply of serviced land is less than the demand in any region.

Down the road this situation will bring greatly increased social costs, as forcing families into jammed up areas has shown. Growth brings the need for more police and fire protection, more recreation facilities, child care, higher social welfare costs, even higher administration costs. It can be seen the added assessment from growth seldom catches up to the rising costs. Municipalities all over are pressing for more growth and more money from the two higher levels of government. Removing some of the responsibilities for municipalities hasn't been enough help in Alberta, it seems. When the economy slows down disaster can strike, and not only New York but many, many cities in the U.S.A. are looking at massive re-development, requiring enormous sums of money.

But a serious recession or depression could be in the offing according to many economists. And as the Premier has been saying, Alberta is not an island.

Municipalities, like all levels of government, are spending too much money. It is debatable whether people have demanded all the extra services which have mushroomed since the war, or whether they have been sold on them by promises offered by those seeking office. The results are the same - expectations of the people are too high. We will have to become more self-reliant in some areas, recreation for example, in order to afford the essential services governments MUST provide.

In our opinion continued high density development is only asking for bigger headaches and costs down the road.

Parent fed up with minor hockey

In the last issue of the Gazette an article was published by the chairman of Minor Hockey expressing his support of a letter written by Mr. Bailey in the February 8th issue.

I would also like to express my support to Mr. Bailey and I admire him for not generalizing and condemning the entire parent support. My understanding of minor sport is that you take, not send, your child, and I feel most parents' support is a very valuable asset to the boys, coaches and worthy directors.

In regard to referee harassment, one of the worst demonstrations was displayed by a league director when a referee was overruled by the director from the stands.

The director disallowed a goal in the presence of 30 players, four coaches and 50 parents. I can only admire boys who are interested in officiating under these adverse circumstances.

In Mr. Dux's letter, he the players involved. It may also be of interest to point out that on one occasion it was a parent from a first place team who refereed three Shaver "B" games back to back.

Having been involved in children which would indicate a serious lack of enthusiasm in the program. May I suggest that the children and parents that have been driven from minor hockey by a minority of fans and the inefficient organization are most likely parents that could contribute to the program.

In closing, I would like to thank the organizers for the efforts they have made and would hope they now realize they have lost touch with the program. I would prefer my boy to be recognized as an individual, not a number put in a slot, only having a name at registration time.

Chuck Jones,
A concerned Parent.

St. Albert RCMP harder worked in 1977

St. Albert RCMP were harder worked over last year, 1977, than they were the previous year, a report released from the St. Albert Detachment says this week.

They had to handle 1,556 more complaints in the St. Albert and Sturgeon region over 1977 than in 1976. In 1977, they handled a total of 7,115 complaints, compared with 5,559 in 1976, an increase of 28 per cent.

They also had a request for additional manpower turned down from Ottawa.

"A two man increase slated for April 1 has been turned down by Ottawa, but city council has o.k.'d it" head of the St. Albert RCMP detachment Sergeant George Siemens told the Gazette this week.

Giving his summary for the past year, Sgt. Siemens said:

"Even with limited manpower we feel we've been quite successful. We have had a good response from the public - we look forward to even greater responses in the next year. If people will call us and just report something that they see it really helps us alot."

Giving a rundown on manpower Sgt. Siemens said: "Our municipal strength for St. Albert is 27 police with 20 on the street."

He also said there are eight men on the highway patrol, with seven on the highway at any given time.

Commenting on the Neighbourhood Watch program just introduced into St. Albert last year he said: "In the neighbourhood watch we have 150 homes completed in St. Albert to date, and the projection to the end of April 78 is we could have 5-600 homes done."

He added: "It will take four to five years to completely do the city. We hope once we are caught up it will be a relatively simple matter to keep up."

"I think St. Albert is a good community to live in. The reason we have not seen some of the serious crimes take place on a mass basis is the fact we have really good rapport with the people in the city ... they've been responding to us."

In the comparative statistics released in the detachment report break-in and entries were up to 226 in 1977 compared to 137 in 1976.

But nearly twice as many of the offenders in these cases were caught by the RCMP in 1977 than in 1976.

The report shows almost double the auto thefts over 1976 - 81 were reported in 1977 with 40 reported in 1976.

There was a massive jump in impaired driving, breathalyzer and failing to blow into a breathalyzer related crimes. Sixty-nine were reported for 1977 compared to 11 in 1976. These crimes were related to rural areas only, not St. Albert.

Actual thefts of motor vehicles increased in 1977 over '76 from 40 to 81.

RCMP recorded four traffic fatalities in the area over 1977 compared to one in 1976.

Also in 1977 there were a total of 119 accidents causing injury compared with 56 in the previous year.

And there were 263 non-injury related accidents in the rural areas in 1977 compared with 78 in 1976.

Highway Traffic Act charges were down in St. Albert over 1977 compared to 76, from 1,808 to 1,091, but there was a jump in the rural figures over the same period, from 106 to 468.

Cases of people taken by city RCMP who spent a night in the "slammer" were up to 1,000 last year compared with 697 in 1976.

Sgt. Siemens said that since he took over the St. Albert detachment, it had gone on to zone policing; that is St. Albert is divided into four along geographical lines, using the Sturgeon river and the St. Albert Trail as the dividers.

He said that some young people in St. Albert had been particularly helpful in aiding the RCMP to track down crime in the city this past year.

"But we are so close to Edmonton, it's going to spill over some day," he said.

RHOSP'S MAKE SENSE FOR HOME BUYERS By Hugh Anderson of the Globe and Mail

A lot of the fun has gone out to registered home ownership savings plans, now that Ottawa has tightened up the rules so they can really only be used for the original purpose - to give a tax break to people who do not own a home and would like to.

That is probably why most financial institutions report there was a big exodus of money from existing plans last year after Ottawa revealed its get-tough moves in the April budget.

But most financial experts agree that, if you are not a home owner and there is any prospect you will be, you should go shopping for a plan. The chance of a clear escape from tax on some income is too good to be missed.

Unlike the registered retirement savings plan, which essentially offers deferment of tax, the home ownership plan allows you to shelter safely up to $1,000 a year. So long as the money is eventually used toward buying a house you are going to live in, it comes out of the plan free of tax.

The basic rules are quite simple. Each individual can have only one plan in his life, and there is an upper limit of $10,000. The new rules also impose a maximum life of 20 years on the plan.

For the last time this year, you have until the end of the this month to contribute to a plan and claim the amount on your 1977 tax return. In future, contributions will only be deductible for the year in which they are made.

Another new restriction, however, is that you are no longer eligible to have a plan if, at the time you apply, you are living with a spouse who owns a home anywhere in the world that is occupied by anyone.

This tightening has stopped some elegant tax manoeuvres that involved transferring the family home from, say husband to wife so that the higher-paid husband could start up a plan.

Previously also, it was possible to use the money in the plan toward furnishings in certain circumstances, but you cannot do that any more.

The tax people have also cut off another manoeuvre by banning tax free transfers into a registered retirement savings plan or a registered pension plan. Previously, even if you had no intention of buying a house, you could take advantage of the home ownership savings rules to get round the maximum contribution limits on the other plans.

There is much less money at stake for the financial industry in registered home ownership savings plans, so the selling effort is also less strident than for the retirement savings plans.

They are available from banks, trust companies, mutual fund groups and some credit unions. The usual range of options is generally available, although you may have to go to different institutions to find them.

Going interest rates on savings deposit accounts range between 7.25 and 8.25 percent at most places. Some institutions offer higher rates if the money is left in for a number of years, but it is important to check what happens if you want the money back early.

Most of the money goes into these accounts because saving to buy a house is generally a short term thing and it may be important to have the dollars available in a hurry. If you choose a fund based on stocks or bonds, this may be just when the market is down.

As in registered retirement savings plans, the principal differences between institutions will probably be in fees. Check out initial and termination charges, annual administration fees and front-end loads.

For the best deal, you have to shop around.

SAUSAGE USED TO FELL MAN From Reuter

Kinsmen Skate-a-thon '78 was the best yet according to all reports. More youngsters turned out than ever before to skate laps for their pledges.

Games group hopes to house visitors in St. Albert

With the Commonwealth Games only a few months away (August 3 - 12 to be exact) the Tickets and Accommodations Division is continuing its search for housing for visitors.

St. Albert's neighbour to the north, Morinville, was the first community outside of Edmonton to offer assistance and now a St. Albert resident, Mrs. T. E. Poppitt, would like to begin a similar effort here.

At present the Games group has about 2500 units of a projected 5-6 thousand needed in the Edmonton area. This includes smaller hotels and motels as well as private homes.

Rents are paid to those offering accommodation in their homes by the visitors using the facility. Meals are not included but arrangements for breakfasts could be worked out between the parties involved. Those who offer their homes to the "Operation Open Door" program early have a good chance of being notified of their guests in time to correspond with them. Payments are guaranteed to the homeowner at Games end through a system which has the visitor pay his rental in advance to a trust fund set up by the Games Committee.

Melton Real Estate have offered their services as accommodation inspectors with rental fees set by the homeowners in consultation with the inspector. Everyone must set a rate even though they may wish to offer the service free. On the other hand this reporter learned, through talking with the Games volunteers, of one Edmonton woman who asked $18 for each of two hide-a-beds and two single beds she had in two basement rooms. Anyone who attempts to collect rentals in this range will likely have empty rooms come Games time.

Mrs. Poppitt feels St. Albert's historic past is something its citizens should show off to visitors coming from other parts of Canada and the Commonwealth. If anyone would like to assist Mrs. Poppitt in organizing the "Open Door Program" in St. Albert she would appreciate a call at 458-2898.

One group which will quite likely be seeking accommodation in St. Albert is a 40 man delegation from the British Armed Services who will be travelling as civilians.

Campaign donations to remain private

A motion by Ald. Margaret Smith to require candidates to file a statement of campaign expenses and donations in future elections was tabled Monday night at the regular meeting of city council. Mrs. Smith's motion would have all aldermanic candidates required to report donations of money or services over $20.00 with the figure for mayoralty candidates at $100.00. Mrs. Smith said she felt that such disclosure would eliminate public speculation on campaign financing.

Ald. Roger Ayotte said he found the motion "completely unnecessary" and said there would be policing problems if it was passed.

"I will be very disappointed if we go on with this nitpicking," said Mr. Ayotte. Other aldermen pointed out that other municipalities had attempted such a requirement but found it was not within their powers to do so.

Mayor Ronald Harvey moved the motion be tabled, and the motion carried.

Pamphlets describing the program are being distributed to school children in the grade one to three age group and are also available at Melton's in Sturgeon Shoppers Plaza, City Hall and the Gazette office.

Any further information on the program may be obtained by phoning Mrs. Poppitt at the above number.

Sisters now R.N.A.'s

Linda and Sandra, eldest and youngest daughters of Rena and Ron Yeats of 4 Gillian Crescent, graduated from Alberta Vocational Centre on Monday, February 6, 1978. They are now qualified registered nursing assistants (R.N.A.). Capping ceremonies took place at the A.V.C. Auditorium, where 28 girls graduated. After the ceremonies a tea was served to the graduates and their guests in the school lunchroom. After their in-school training, Linda worked for five months at the Royal Alexandra Hospital and Sandra worked two and one-half months in the Vegreville Hospital and two and one-half months at the Royal Alexandra Hospital. It was the first time the school had two sisters graduating at the same time.

Both girls went to Sir George Simpson and graduated from Paul Kane High School. Linda attended NAIT for a medical receptionist course and Sandra worked in the Sturgeon General Hospital in St. Albert for over a year as a volunteer candy stripper. They have always been interested in nursing and helping others which stemmed from their early Girl Guide training.

Persons involved in minor sport in St. Albert will be interested in an Athletics Injuries Clinic to be held at Sir George Simpson Junior High School on Saturday, March 18.

The clinic will be an all-day session from 8:30 a.m. - 5 p.m. with a lunch break from noon - 1 p.m.

Instruction at the clinic will be given by Mr. Ray Kelly, Head Athletic Therapist, Faculty of Physical Education at the U of A.

If you are interested in taking part please submit your name, address and phone number along with the $5 fee (payable to the City of St. Albert) to the Cashiers' office at City Hall.

There will be a maximum limit of 30 and registration will be on a first come first served basis. After registering, please proceed directly to the clinic unless otherwise notified.

LOST AND FOUND

The Lost and Found box at the Perron Street arena is overflowing with articles of clothing accumulated over the winter. If you wish to retrieve any missing articles, you can do so until March 8. The Arena is open daily from 6 a.m. to midnight.

LACROSSE MIGHT FOLD

The St. Albert Lacrosse Association will be holding an organizational meeting at the Mission Clubhouse Tuesday, February 28 at 8 p.m. Parents of students in grades four through nine are urged to attend. Unless a sufficient number of interested persons attend, lacrosse will fold up in St. Albert, ending a brief but successful period of activity here.

St. Albert plays within the Edmonton and District Lacrosse Association league as there is no house league. The season is normally May and June.

The sport is not restricted to boys and several St. Albert girls have participated in the past. It is an excellent sport in the off-season for hockey and basketball players, as stick handling skills come quickly with practice.

BIRDS, BIRDS, BIRDS!!!

The St. Albert Arts and Crafts Guild thinks February is for the birds and to prove their point they will be holding a Bird Show at the Arts Centre on Sunset Boulevard Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, February 23, 24, 25 and 26.

Their birds will be in the form of macrame, weaving, quilting and clay, not only for show, but for sale as well.

The hours will be 7-9 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, and from 1-4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

And while we are on the subject of birds ...

SPRING BIRD FESTIVAL

The Department will be having a Spring Bird Festival for the children during Spring Break (last week in March).

March 28 and 29 will be devoted to costume construction and on April 1 a parade will be the highlight of the day followed by a party for all participants.

So kids, put your thinking caps on as to what kind of bird costume you are going to make and start accumulating those necessary supplies. Further announcements as to locations and times will be in this column.

VOLUNTEERS

A community Congress on Volunteering will be held Saturday, March 4, 1978 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Hideout Teen Centre, 6 Cunningham Road (basement of the Day Care Centre).

The Congress is designed to help everyone understand their volunteer community better by sharing some thoughts about some important things that have happened to our volunteer communities in recent years.

There are still some openings left, and you may pre-register by sending your $5 cheque payable to the St. Albert Teen Society along with your name, address and phone number to Brian Leonard, City Hall, Grandin and Churchill, St. Albert. Any enquiries should be directed to Brian at 459-6601. Please Turn to Page 18

Guiding displays at Grandin Mall

Displays and live demonstrations of the Girl Guide program are being offered in Grandin Mall this week by St. Albert Guide Division, Girl Guides of Canada.

From approximately 4 p.m. till 5 p.m. Monday through Friday hives, packs and companies of Busy Bees, Brownies and Guides respectively will appear to show their part in the Guide program. Saturday hours will be from 10 a.m. through noon.

Mrs. W. N. McLachlan, First Guide Company Captain, is co-ordinator.

During Scout-Guide Week, February 19-26, members of the movement observe the February 22 birthday of the founder Lord Baden-Powell and of his wife, the late Chief Guide, and thank their communities.

This Brownie Pack was on the mall Monday, singing songs, and generally showing passing shoppers what the Brownies are all about.

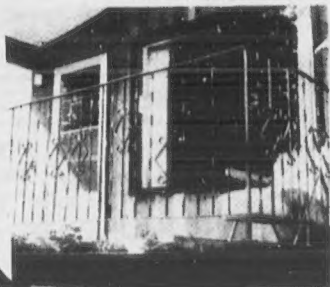

The Brownies invaded Grandin Shoppers Mall Monday and Tuesday (and for the rest of this week) to celebrate Scout and Guide Week in Canada. Shown here, the Brownies are giving out cupcakes to passing shoppers.

NDP advocates revenue sharing

On Sunday, February 12, 1978, the St. Albert NDP held a general membership meeting. Bob Borreson, candidate for the St. Albert provincial riding, gave a report on the Candidates' school held in Edmonton on February 11.

Bob feels that the NDP will have a comprehensive program to meet the needs of small businesses and farmers in the St. Albert riding.

Revenue sharing with municipalities as instituted by NDP governments is a proven success in Saskatchewan and Manitoba. There is a dire need for this program in Alberta.

The NDP and its candidates will make this a major issue in the next election.

To date the NDP has an impressive array of candidates and unprecedented growth in the NDP is occurring.

Pre-election planning in the constituency is well underway.

There will be a spring social on April 28, 1978 in Gibbons. A number of nominated NDP candidates should be present.

Several Cadets from the St. Albert R.C.A. (AIR)C. #533 Squadron give a helping hand at building additional cabins at Camp Wright, this past weekend.

St. Albert R.C.A. (AIR)C. No. 533 Squadron

#533 RC(AIR)C have just completed the second successful Camp Wright winter exercise, this past weekend.

All went well and once again the weather was beautiful.

Saturday saw the cadets in sports and work. Playing football in two feet of snow is something else and touch-downs hard to come by. But our cadets were in fine form in the tackling end. A ski jump was made and many cadets tried their skis in stunting; cross country was also carried out for those who had brought equipment.

Additional cabins are in the process of being built and several were assigned to help out in this area. Hammering, sawing and general light construction was heard throughout the day.

Saturday evening a very successful dance was held with C1 M. Cady hooking up our sound system. Everyone danced, including those who were hobbling because of minor aches or pains.

A "Kangaroo Court" was held Sunday for the trial of four members of our squadron. Charges of "Bear-Napping" were brought against Cpls. Seifert, Maybee and Devine and Lt. Maybee. Because of the fine, upstanding characters of these female cadets and officer, the verdict of not-guilty came as no surprise. However, the conduct of the judge, prosecution, defence and witnesses during the trial were questionable and an investigation is pending.

The kitchen staff did a great job and C1 Armstrong even received "breakfast in bed." Compliments for the food were accepted and criticism was rejected. The concession was as usual, a tremendous success.

Wood hauling on Sunday, a few games, general clean-up and packing brought the weekend to a close. Even though most cadets were tired or wet, I am sure that, as the flag was lowered, all were sorry to see the weekend come to an end. Activities such as these give cadets a better opportunity to please turn to page 14

EDUCATION COMMENT

Seminars to examine program requirements

A series of at least 20 seminars in March, April and May to discuss elementary and secondary school programs and requirements for high school graduation were announced by Education Minister Julian Koziak recently. The seminars have been planned in consultation with representatives of business, labor, parents, superintendents, teachers and trustees. Six issues arising from the widely distributed paper "Alberta Education and Diploma Requirements" will form the focus for community discussion:

Expansions of a statement of goals of education to provide a basis for determining school program and course content. Reviews and revisions to programs and courses to assure that goals are met. Evaluation of school programs to assure that all prescribed knowledge and skills are provided. Requiring standard achievement, and repeating in case of failure, and other practices for assuring final student achievement levels. Requirements of documented evidence of individual student performance in addition to a list of completed courses before a high school diploma is issued. Consideration of a province-wide monitoring system to confirm that students attain desirable achievement levels.

The results of the seminars will be reported to the Curriculum Policies Board to assist in determining the recommendations to the Minister of Education on program and course patterns.

A local planning committee is being established for each centre to organize the seminar.

Persons interested in participating in any seminar should contact the appropriate Regional Office of Education for each zone.

Skarin Fund invites project applications

A University of Alberta Senate committee administering the Emil Skarin Memorial Fund is inviting groups and individuals to apply for financial assistance to projects beneficial to the university and the community.

Through the fund established by a donation to the University of Alberta, approximately $5,000 is made available each year to assist projects not normally funded by the university. Although preference is being given to projects with an emphasis on the humanities and the arts, there are no restrictions on the nature of eligible projects, save that they be consistent with the general aims and purposes of the University of Alberta, and of some value to the public as well.

In the past, the Emil Skarin Memorial Fund assisted four very different kinds of activities. In late 1974, the fund was used to sponsor a lecture at the Jubilee Auditorium in Edmonton by retired Swedish Ambassador Dr. Gunnar Jarring, who spoke on the subject Quiet Diplomacy and Other Forms of Diplomacy.

Application forms are available through the office of the University of Alberta Senate. Project proposals should include objectives, schedule, budget, and organizational procedures. In order for a project to be considered in the current competition, fully completed application forms will have to be received at the Senate Office by April 1, 1978.

It is the hope of the committee to announce a winner or winners at the meeting of the Senate on April 27, 1978. For information contact: Chairman, Emil Skarin Memorial Fund Committee, The Senate, 5th Floor, Mechanical Engineering, University of Alberta, Edmonton, T6G 2G8.

Surgical thinking theme of course

Current surgical thinking is the theme of a course to be held March 14, 15 and 16 under the sponsorship of the University of Alberta's Faculty of Medicine.

The course, with Dr. Frank W. Turner of the faculty's department of surgery and clinical surgery as chairman, will take place in the Banff Springs Hotel.

Assessment and management of arterial injuries, initial care of the injured, road traffic accidents in Alberta, recent advances in pediatric surgery, and recent studies on stress ulceration are among the course's topics for discussion and study.

The registration fee of $130 is payable upon application for enrollment.

Accommodation is available at the Banff Springs

Hotel and a reservation card will be sent to each individual upon receipt of application for enrollment.

To secure enrollment forms, contact: The Division of Continuing Medical Education, 12-103 Clinical Sciences Building, The University of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta, T6G 2G3.

ATA honours former superintendent

In recognition of outstanding service to teaching and to the cause of education in Alberta, John (Jack) Van Tighem has been awarded one of four honorary memberships to be presented this year by the Alberta Teachers' Association.

Dr. Van Tighem, who retired in 1977 from his position as superintendent of the Calgary Roman Catholic separate school system, was presented with a certificate of honorary membership by ATA president Mac Kryzanowski during a ceremony Wednesday, February 15, at the Calgary city teachers' convention.

During his over 40 years in education, Dr. Van Tighem moved from teaching in a one-room schoolhouse in Baintree, Alberta in 1936 (his first job and the one he says he liked the best) to supervising instruction in the Calgary separate system after the war. In 1952 he was appointed assistant superintendent and in 1962, superintendent, following the growth of the system from 1,600 students in 1946 to 23,000 students when he retired.

Despite the demands of his job, Dr. Van Tighem was active in a number of professional organizations, including the Conference of Alberta School Superintendents, Canadian Association of School Administrators, Canadian Education Association, Institute of Public Administrators of Canada, and the Commonwealth Council for Education Administration.

Dr. Van Tighem's contributions to education have been acknowledged as well by presentation, on behalf of Pope Paul VI, of the Bene Merenti Medal for dedicated service to Catholic education in Canada, and the awarding of an honorary doctorate in 1974 by the University of Calgary.

Details of the other three honorary ATA memberships to be presented this year will be released as the awards are made.

The Entertainment Scene

"Vanities": parody poses as truth

By Vicky Knight
"Vanities," now playing at Theatre 3, is an amusing enough play if it is viewed solely as a caricature of female behaviour. The play is Jack Heitner's version of what REALLY goes on when a gaggle (giggle?) of girls gets together "to dish the dirt," as a trite song once said. As a fantastical parody of girliness, it is quite funny, but when it asks to be taken seriously in the final act, I feel I must object. Caricatures don't make for much in the way of tragic endings, and to ask the audience to feel for their plight is ridiculous.

The play traces three women as they progress, if that's the word, from high school cheerleaders, to sorority sisters, to adults. The first act occurs in 1963, the year of the Dallas infamy. An offstage announcement of the assassination was made, for reasons that I couldn't fathom, as the girls are totally oblivious to anything outside their own small realm. Come on, Mr. Heitner, even the silliest of us were moved by that! Speaking as one who is the same age as the characters and who grew up in the same period, I was disappointed. The play and characters bore no relation to anything or anyone in my experience.

To begin with, the three characters are a trio of stereotypes -- the class prude, bent on marriage and motherhood; the good sport, destined to be a gym teacher; and the "bad girl," bound for general hell-raising. At the high school level, in those times at least, such a mixture of aims, interests and morals would be, unfortunately, unthinkable. The mere fact they were all cheerleaders would not be enough to bind them together. Sexual morals in high school were a matter of supreme importance and the subject of endless debate. Thus, cliques at that time tended to be of a homogeneous nature. "Easy" girls were in no way allowed to sully the pristine reputations of the wives and mothers of the future. Vanities' Mary, for instance, would have been blacklisted from Jo Ann's chaste circle.

NASAL BUT NICE

The cartoon aspect of the play prevails particularly in the lines given to Joanne, aptly played by Janet Daverne in honeyed, nasal tones, punctuated by squeaks. Ms. Daverne is right on in her rendition of the character, who is a "good" girl, but vastly irritating. However, the character is not developed in any way that prepares us to sympathize with the unhappy turns her life takes in the last act. She suffers the most, as her ideals are the highest, and she is vulnerable in her high hopes. She winds up in a constant state of pregnancy, while her husband has affairs with a number of women, including her best friend. She also develops a strong taste for the oblivion of alcohol. Now all this is hardly the stuff of rollicking comedy, but the author insists on keeping her a comic figure.

As Cathy, Judith Mabey portrays the most believable character. For all her organizational talents, she is insecure, and I liked the way Mabey expressed this with well-timed gurgles at the end of her lines. Cathy eventually becomes--gasp--a "kept" woman. I found the other girls' reaction to Cathy's lifestyle to be rather extreme. Such things hardly stir a ripple today, amongst young women of that ilk. The trauma here is clearly the author's.

Finally, we have Mary, rendered with alternate flashes of languor and acrimony by Elan Ross Gibson. It is hard to get any picture of Mary's nature, so engrossed is the author in her sexual proclivities. Her sexual rebellion is evidently a reaction to an oppressive mother, but the implication is vague and unfinished. We are told only that she behaves like the proverbial mink, a piece of information that does little to evoke compassion for her.

I would have enjoyed "Vanities" more freely if the last act had been in a lighter vein. Joanne could have become a bra-burning, man-loathing militant feminist; Mary could have written her own version of the Hite report, and Cathy could have gone on to greater glory as campy sculptor, creating wildly expensive masterpieces of chicken wire and kleenex. These non-sensical events would have been in keeping with the cartoon characters they were. However, their sudden emergence in the last act as vulnerable human beings is just too hard to swallow.

Insanity of Vietnam

a war relived

ALL THE BOYS IN COMPANY C
RIALTO 2, EDMONTON
By Jim McIntyre

For once here is the movie that tells the Vietnam War Story like it really was: there's no John Wayne to fly the Stars and Stripes and win the war single handed Green Beret style.

I've rarely seen such an insane war movie where soldiers were in a constant state of mindless hysteria, raucous and lost when away from their Uncle Sam life line as they floundered in the Danang rice paddies.

And all the while the insidious and tantalizingly fluid Viet Cong, affectionately known as "Charlie," picked off the American boys from the tree tops and rice fields. They did it as if they knew that the result of the war was a foregone conclusion.

The movie makes full use of the pastoral Vietnamese landscape, where peace hangs on every hilltop, yet is cruelly violated by the puff of mortar fire and the scream of dying men.

At first you wonder if you've settled in to see a real bum movie as the 110 brave lads in company C leave their homes and girl friends to be regaled by the crude insults of senior officers. But as the company shapes up and a young black leader, Washington, honed by 20 years of ghetto warfare, emerged as a forceful personality, you gradually feel yourself warming to this film. It has lots of vulgarity, it's down to earth and as I mentioned before earlier, there's never any sense of rescue from a John Wayne or an Audie Murphy.

In fact if you flick your eye over the names of the cast you will see no well known names there; they could well be the ghosts of the 50 odd men of the real Company C who died in those combats of the late 60s.

There are numerous examples of the insanity which we call the Vietnam war. Frustrated at not being able to get a shot in at their invisible enemy, soldiers fire shells at an empty hillside, then order a bombing attack by Skyhawk aircraft on the same piece of land.

Then an innocent village is ordered to be destroyed after the Company withers under intense fire from the Viet Cong, when the American column is spotted on a bridge.

They are as vulnerable as the Viet Cong would have been if their leaders had ordered them to take the Empire State Building under the full view of the National Guard.

The film is based on the experience of a real company, most of whom never returned home except in a plastic body bag, the symbol of the inevitable American defeat in a war which the Americans should never have fought.

Theatre 3 appoints new artistic director

Keith Digby has been appointed artistic director of Theatre 3 effective June 1, announced Board Chairman Michael Liknaitzky at a press conference early today.

Digby was selected from among 38 applicants for the position vacated February 1 by Theatre 3's co-founder and previous Artistic Director, Mark Schoenberg.

Theatre 3 is proud to welcome Mr. Digby and we look forward to his strong direction and leadership as the Theatre continues to realize the high artistic standards set during its seven year history," said

Mr. Liknaitzky.

Liknaitzky commented that the selection committee had a difficult task in choosing a short list of four candidates, a difficulty compounded by the high artistic talent displayed by all four. In the end, the committee and the Board, who had both interviewed all four candidates, were most impressed by the ability evidenced by Mr. Digby in some of his mainstage productions at the Citadel as well as his proven administrative competence in every facet of theatre management.

Digby has spent the past three seasons as artistic director of the Citadel on Wheels/Wings, and has a continuing commitment to theatre education and the development of new playwrights. He has recently directed Bedroom Farce for the Shochor Theatre of the Citadel, and The Homecoming for Persephone Theatre in Saskatoon.

Former Artistic Director Mark Schoenberg is now at CBC-Edmonton as a producer for drama and music. Randy Maertz is acting artistic director of Theatre 3, and will be directing the Joanna Glass duo, Canadian Gothic, American Modern, scheduled to open March 16 at Theatre 3.

Concert preview

The Women's Auxiliary of the Edmonton Symphony Society will be sponsoring a concert preview on Friday, March 3, at 9:30 a.m. downstairs in the Music Rooms of the Centennial Library.

The meeting will focus on orchestral works with guest speaker Keith Ashwell. Among the works under discussion will be Symphony No. 6, "Pathétique" by Tchaikovsky.

Admission is free and everyone is welcome to attend.

get to know one another, from AC2 to Sr. NCO and closer relationships are made. Most of all it gives all who participate, happy memories which will be remembered for a long time to come. Another very successful weekend came to an end as the bus was boarded and finally departed for St. Albert.

Another camp will, hopefully, take place in the spring, as well as familiarization flying and other activities.

Anyone interested in Air Cadets should come to the Community Hall Thursday evening at 7 p.m. and report to the Administration Office. Male or female, between the ages of 13 - 18 years are eligible. No cost is involved but parent consent is required.

Newcomers

gearing up for auction

The St. Albert Newcomers Club is preparing for its annual wine and cheese party. According to PR Chairman, Mrs. Ripley, the name should really be more in tune with the White Elephant theme as it is the auction which brings in the money.

Proceeds of this year's auction will be donated to the Sturgeon General Hospital. The affair, open to WOMEN ONLY, will be held Tuesday, April 4 in the St. Albert Community Hall.

Each member of the club will be bringing an item or items to the auction (crafts, plants etc.) and local businessmen will also be solicited for merchandise on a donation basis.

Further information on the affair may be had by calling 458-6403.

New galleries at the Provincial Museum

The Honourable Horst A. Schmid, minister of Culture, officially opened four major galleries and exhibits Sunday at the Provincial Museum.

The new Mineral Gallery on the second floor features hundreds of beautiful specimens, including a display of fluorescent samples. The Museum has been preparing its collection for this gallery since 1973.

In the seismograph corner of the Geology Gallery, visitors will see a working seismograph recording the inner activities of the earth. From mid-Pacific shakings to tremors deep inside continental masses, the sensitive instrument will transmit information from a main seismometer anchored to the bedrock in Leduc, to the recording drum in the Museum gallery. A huge backdrop shows the wreckage of the main street in Anchorage, Alaska, after a major earthquake hit. A panel of text explains the geological events that occur during an earthquake.

Many new specimens and panels of information have been added to the Dinosaur Gallery. Most significant is an enormous fibreglass cast of dinosaur footprints recovered by the Museum's paleontological staff during a summer of field work in the Peace River canyon. The real slab of footprints would be too heavy to display, and the casting actually brings out more detail.

The completion of the galleries and exhibits marks the 10th anniversary of the Provincial Museum and the Provincial Archives.

The Museum is open Monday to Saturday 9 p.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Admission is free.

This musical comedy enjoyed a long and successful run off-Broadway and won the Outer Circle Critics Matrimonial property issue is still unresolved today. To bring you up-to-date on what has happened I am passing on to you, a summary that appeared in the January 1978 issue of Resource News. "Three years after the Institute of Law Research and Reform filed its report and recommendations on matrimonial property, the Alberta Legislature has finally made a move regarding the subject. Bill 102, the Matrimonial Property Act, was introduced on the last day of the Fall Sitting. It is to be re-introduced in the Spring of 1978, possibly in amended form. In the meantime, Attorney General Jim Foster, the minister responsible for the Bill, says he wants "input" from the citizens of the province." Write to: The Honourable J. L. Foster, 404 Legislative Building, Edmonton, T5K 2B7.

Alberta's present matrimonial property regime is that of separation of property - basically, what is in the husband's name is his, and what is in the wife's name is hers. This is not in keeping with the concept of marriage as an equal partnership, and is unfair to women because most are conditioned to perform their share of marriage responsibilities in a way that doesn't provide an opportunity to accumulate property in their own names.

ALTERNATIVES...

The possible alternatives to this system are community property, judicial discretion and deferred sharing. Quebec used community property at one time, but switched to deferred sharing. Deferred sharing is the regime favoured by the Institute, and is supported by most women's groups in the province, including Women of Uniform, local and provincial Councils of Women, local and provincial Status of Women Action Committees and university women's organizations. If implemented it would provide for all

Food prices up

Food prices increased by 1.6 percent between mid-December and mid-January according to the AIB's retail food for home consumption index.

The increase follows a late December period of fairly steady prices and was led by a 40 percent jump in the retail price of lettuce. Other factors were higher prices for butter, cereal products, red meats, eggs and processed fruits.

The 12 city national survey, taken weekly by the AIB, puts the index at 129.9 (1974 equals 100) for the week ending January 20. It is 11.5 percent above the year ago level.

property accumulated by either partner during the marriage (property owned before the marriage is not included) to be split equally upon marriage breakdown. This system is favoured because its certainty assures that women will get a fair break.

Bill 102 is built on the principle of guided judicial discretion. That is, the manner in which a couple's property would be divided upon divorce would be up to the judge in the case, acting under 19 guidelines set out in the Bill. It is proposed as an improvement over separation of property because it would allow for recognition of a spouse's non-monetary contribution (remember, Mrs. Murdoch lost out because she was adjudged not to have many any "direct financial contribution" to the marriage property, and her labours as a wife, mother and farmhand didn't count).

Women involved in the matrimonial property issue are dismayed, however. The 19 guidelines are not weighted, they are not specific, and they include such things as "conduct of the spouses." So, within a male dominated judiciary, the Bill 102 system would be wide open for all the old biases against women to act in fostering decisions against them. Even a wife's "direct financial contribution" could be ignored! There is no recognition of the "marriage of partnership" concept in the Bill, even though the Institute's pre-report surveys showed that 78% of Albertans - male and female - support that concept.

LET YOUR VOICE BE HEARD!

"During the next few months it will be critical for the people of this province to let the government know exactly what kind of matrimonial property law they really favour." For a copy of Bill 102, a question and answer booklet on matrimonial property and scripts for skits illustrating the different regimes, write to: Barbara Hill, P.O. acceptable to any neighborhood. The plan is also available in "style B," for those that prefer an alternate design.

This plan layout will take the most advantage of a view, and would be ideal on a medium sloping lot. The large double carport has a direct access to the basement, where there's plenty of room to add a workshop, or extra bedroom. The plan includes roughed-in plumbing, so you can add another bathroom as need demands.

The ground floor entry minimizes the escape of warm air outside. There's a coat closet at the top of the stairs, a real convenience for guests. Your guests will get an immediate view of the very private living room with its wood-burning fireplace. The intimate dining room, located conveniently next to the kitchen, has sliding glass doors leading onto the large covered sundeck.

The U-shape kitchen has lots of counter space, and the convenience to well designed food preparation area. The nook, also convenient to the kitchen area, offers breakfast with a view through the arches. Choose door and window arrangement shown here from the nook to the sundeck, or install a half door, all glass doors, or put in patio doors to add your own special touch.

The three bedrooms are at the back of the house, away from traffic noise, and each bedroom has large windows for light, a good view, and fresh air. The master bedroom can be completely closed off from the rest of the house to provide a good measure of all important privacy. There's a two piece ensuite, and a walk-in closet more a necessity than a luxury in any three bedroom home.

School Days In St. Albert

St. Albert High reports

By Barb Kathol and
Kathy Matear

Now that we're back to a five day week, activities are starting to happen. On Saturday, February 11, the Debating Club participated in the Alberta Law Debates at McNally Composite High. Two of our three teams debated in the open class and had very stiff competition. They lost most of their competitions, but found it was worthwhile because they learned a lot. On Saturday, February 25 Bernie Bolton and Cheryl Leibel will be debating in the Diefenbaker Debates to be held at Salisbury Composite High School. They are registered in the intermediate category. The first semesters results were mailed last week.

Congratulations to Marc Bolduc who went to the Provincial Wrestling meet in Stettler, Alberta last weekend. He placed fifth in the 138 lb. class. Marc was the only representative from St. Albert in the North Central Zone.

The boys and girls basketball teams defeated Georges P. Vanier on Monday, February 13. The girls won by a score of 44-32, and the boys won 44-38.

The girls' team played in a tournament at ABJ, in Sherwood Park last weekend. In their first game the girls lost to ABJ 44-38, and then lost to Ardrossan 38-32. They went on to win the consolation prize by defeating Westlock 40-32.

This upcoming weekend, both teams will be playing in conference at Sturgeon Heights Composite High. The girls play Spruce Grove at 12 p.m. and the boys play Sturgeon at 1:30 p.m. Go SKYHAWKS!

PK Blues swat Fort Hornets

In a wildly exciting game Friday in the PK gym the Blues came on to win over the Fort Saskatchewan Hornets 75-63 in overtime.

Regulation time proved to be a struggle for the Blues. They trailed throughout the game until Jan Zwigelaar tied it on a driving, base-line lay-up with only four seconds remaining on the clock.

During overtime the Blues outscored the "bugs" 14-2 to win handily.

Rookie Dave Boyd was top scorer with 19 points while Mitch Smith tossed in 13. Dave Cushing added 12 more and Zwigelaar finished with nine.

Frank Tworek's baseline shot was blocked by a Hornet defender during the early going in the Blues 75-63 overtime win Friday. Jan Zwigelaar (22) and Mitch Smith (4) were moving in to retrieve any rebound.

Paul Kane News

By Carolyn Seitz

As today slowly melts into tomorrow, we all stare at our calendars, wondering if, perhaps, we forgot to tear off a month or two somewhere along the line. But though all grade 12's devoutly pray for June, our pleas don't seem to effect anything but the weather, and, day after day, we are relentlessly drawn back into the halls of learning. Still, there are some who, refusing depression, are enthusiastically planning for that far-away day of emancipation. Grad '78 will be Saturday, May 13. Exercises are to be in Paul Kane's gym at 2 p.m., the banquet and dance at the Edmonton Inn from 6 p.m. to 1 a.m. Announcements and invitations for the exercises will be mailed out in late April, while sales of tickets for the banquet and dance will begin earlier that month.

On Tuesday, April 18 the school cafeteria will house our second annual "Spring Fling" fashion show. Students or parents interested in supporting our grad through aiding in the presentation of the fashion show, can contact Donna Powell at Paul Kane, phone 459-4405.

So far, that's all I have to tell you. By the way, when you go to bed tonight, pray for the safe deliverance of all grade 12's from the terrors of Paul Kane High.

On February 8, Lorne Akins battled the cold, trudged through the snow and competed in crazy, almost impossible competitions for the winter carnival which left most of the students soaked, frozen, and ready to taste a hot lunch. Some of the activities involved were as follows: the five legged skate race, speed skating, tug-of-war, the snow show race, and the teacher toboggan pull. Each event is scored by participation, and achievement. The overall winners were: seven-four, eight-four, and a tie between nine-one and nine-five. The house which received the greatest amount of points was the green house which is a combination team of seven-four, eight-four, and nine-four. Although it was a rather cold day the turnout was fairly good in participation and achievement.

The entire afternoon was taken up by a special valentine's day disco dance in the gym where Mrs. DeChamplain played the top hits of this year and gave away free singles. Just as at the Christmas dance, students who didn't want to attend the dance had the choice of watching T.V., reading or doing homework, and so the entire day was spent celebrating Lorne Akins winter carnival. It truly was a success!

The ski trips are finished now, but a special trip to Banff is planned for the days of February 24, 25 and 26. This is called the Sunshine Ski Trip and the cost is minimal for motel accommodations, ski lifts, rentals. All other expenses are optional for the buyer.

Total Canadian agricultural exports last year were valued at about $4.2 billion and imports were worth an estimated $3.4 billion, creating an agricultural trade surplus of $800 million.

This surplus was about the same as in 1976 and was mostly the result of grain and oilseed exports.

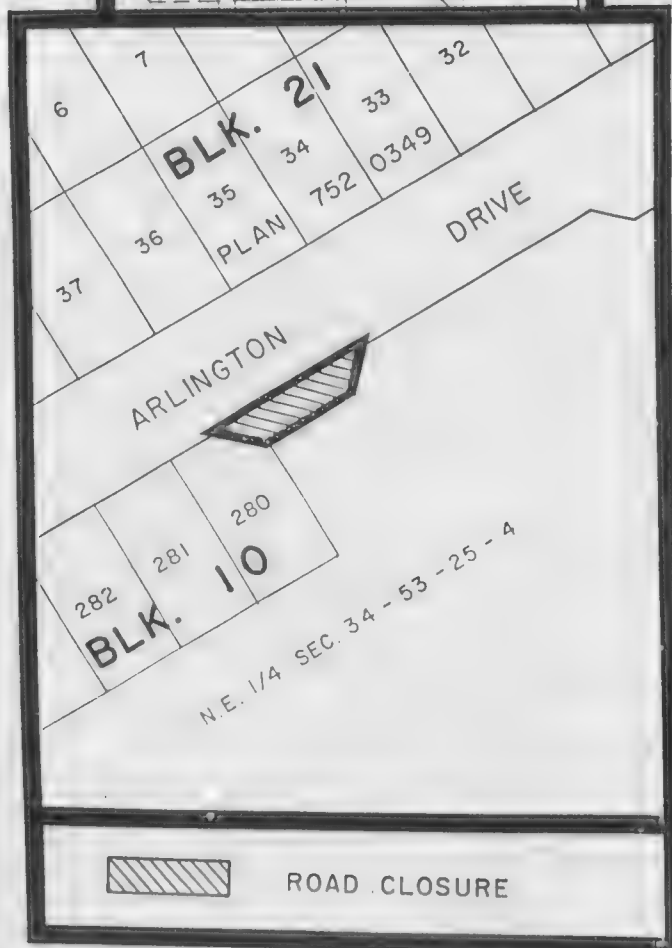

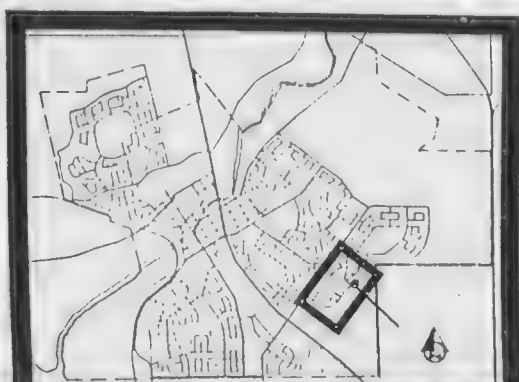

The deficit in agricultural trade with the United States grew slightly last year. We now import nearly three times as much food and fibre from the U.S. as we export to that country.

PUBLIC NOTICE ROAD CLOSURE

Notice is hereby given that the Council of the City of St. Albert deems it advisable to close all that portion of road right-of-way on Arlington Drive as shown on the attached map and described as adjacent to Lot 280, Block 10, Plan 752 0349 containing 1,660 square feet more or less.

A redesign within Akinsdale stage VI South eliminates the necessity for a road right-of-way at this particular location and the lands described above are not required for a road right-of-way as a portion of Arlington Drive.

Council intends to give consideration to the passing of By-Law No. 8/78 for this purpose at its regular meeting to be held Monday, March 20, 1978 at 8:00 p.m. in the City Hall Annex and any person who claims that he will be affected prejudicially by the passing of the said by-law shall be afforded an opportunity to be heard by the Council either by himself or by his agent prior to the passing of the by-law.

This notice shall be published on February 22, 1978 and March 1, 1978.

can help - no skill required.

HISTORY REPEATS ...

"Youth now love luxury: they have bad manners, show disrespect for authority, and disrespect for older people. Children generally are tyrants. They gobble food and tyrannize their teachers."

-SOCRATES.

This quote is 2000 years old. I wonder if youth has not changed in 2000 years or if adult opinion of youth hasn't changed in that time?

St. Albert High open house March 9

St. Albert High School will schedule Grade 10 Parent-Teacher interviews at parent request on the afternoon and evening of March 7. A letter explaining the interview format and a list of the Grade 10 staff and administration is being sent to the homes of all grade 10 parents. Parents can simply check off the teachers they wish to see and send this information back to the school with their son or daughter. A confirmation letter will follow, listing the times of the interviews. It is hoped parents will use this day to meet the staff and review their son's/daughter's program.

An open house will be held March 9 from 7 - 9 for all parents. A television production entitled "So This is a High School" will be shown. Parents will be able to meet informally with the staff, to view facilities and to see the various subject area displays.

Robert Rundle held annual penny carnival

Valentine's Day was celebrated in a different manner at Robert Rundle Elementary school this year. The annual penny carnival was held during the afternoon. Each classroom was responsible for setting up and looking after a game, and the children paid a penny or two to play the games. A snack stall was organized by the Grade 5 classes, the emphasis being placed on nutritional snacks. Parents were asked to use their imagination when preparing the snacks, and they certainly came through with style!

Money raised at the penny carnival will be used to support the school's foster child, N.G. Chi-wai from Hong Kong.

The staff and children would like to thank the many parents who helped in various ways to make this event so successful. The total raised was $212.00.

World Day of Prayer service at Elim Chapel

"Community Spirit in Modern Living" is the theme for the 1978 World Day of Prayer Service on Friday, March 3. Since this is the 60th anniversary of the World Day of Prayer in Canada, the service has been prepared by a group of Canadian women. People in 3500 communities of Canada and in 170 countries around the world will be sharing in this inter-denominational service of prayer and fellowship. Men, women and children of all faiths will be welcome.

You are invited to participate in the service on March 3 at 7:30 p.m. in Elim Pentecostal Chapel, 10101 Avenue. The World Day of Prayer is sponsored in Canada by the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada which is located at 77 Charles Street West, Toronto, Ontario M5S 1K5. The Council is made up of representatives from 11 Christian denominations, the YWCA, the Canadian Council of Churches, and the Ecumenical Forum of Canada. Offerings from the World Day of Prayer are used to support ecumenical programs that meet human need both in Canada and other countries. This year, to celebrate the 60th anniversary, a birthday gift of $60,000 will go to finance a world-wide literary project. The Canadian Bible Society will administer the project.

Seat belt could have saved 21 lives in 1977

The Alberta Transportation Accident Investigation Team has revealed some interesting facts in regard to seat belt use in fatal vehicle crashes.

During 1977, 43 fatal accidents, where seat belt use by vehicle occupants could be assessed, were investigated. These 43 accidents resulted in 58 deaths.

Neil McKay, a member of the investigation team said, "Twenty-one or 36.2 percent of the 58 persons killed would not have died had seat belts been in use at the time of the crash."

These figures closely resemble the opinion of police officers who reported on 15 motor vehicle accidents during the holiday period of December 19, 1977 to January 2, 1978 in which 24 people lost their lives said Mr. McKay who works for the Transportation Safety Branch.

He said that police officers who investigated the fatal crashes are of the opinion that 10, or 41.6 percent of these 24 deaths could have been prevented had the vehicle occupants involved been wearing seat belts.

These figures make a strong case for people to use seat belts in motor vehicles at all times, said McKay.

Harnessing the wind

The windmill could be making a comeback on the Canadian prairies.

A new windmill design incorporating a vertical axis rotor is as efficient as the well-known tower windmill but has distinct advantages. It costs about half as much to produce, does not need a tower, has no directional vanes, can withstand high wind speeds and needs little maintenance.

Dr. Harmon Davidson of Agriculture Canada's Swift Current, Sask., Research Station says with more research and design work, the new windmill could be an inexpensive way to produce electrical power.

Saints enjoy southern road trip

St. Albert Junior Saints had another successful three game road trip last weekend coming up with four of a possible six points.

Saints started off in Calgary Friday night and had no trouble with the second place Canucks as they skated to a convincing 7-4 win.

Saturday night in Taber the last place Golden Suns pulled off a major upset as they edged the Junior Saints 4-3.

Sunday afternoon in Pincher Creek the Saints, behind the two-goal performance of Dave Inch, scored a 5-3 win over the sixth place Chinooks.

The two wins move the Saints three points ahead of second place Calgary in the tight Alberta Junior "A" Hockey League.

Fort Saskatchewan are in third place two points behind Calgary as a result of a 11-2 thumping by the Canucks in Calgary, Sunday night.

Edmonton Crusaders remained in fourth place splitting their home and home series with the Red Deer Rustlers. Crusaders won 6-2 Sunday in Red Deer and lost 5-4 in overtime Saturday night in Edmonton.

The only other weekend action saw the Traders upset Pincher Creek 4-1 Saturday in Pincher Creek.

midner Pierre Lamoureux midway through the first period.

Mark Messier put the Saints ahead 3-1 with 40 seconds left in the period to give the St. Albert squad a 3-1 lead going into the second period.

Calgary came right back with a pair of goals in the first five minutes of the second with Bruno Baseotto and Dave Speer scoring. Speer's was a powerplay effort with Mike Moskalys off for hooking.

At 6:52 Solheim picked up the puck inside his own blueline and let go a booming slapshot at the centre red line that had Calgary goaler Darcy Way beat all the way. It caught the top left hand corner of the net. Solheim has without a doubt, the hardest slapshot in the league and once the youngster learns how to use it effectively he will become a 60-goal scorer.

The goal appeared to break the Canucks concentration and the Saints took advantage of it quickly rapping in three goals in the next five minutes to win rather easily by a 7-4 score.

Gerard Jubinville scored a short-handed goal at 8:23 and the first of two by Rick Hendricks came on the powerplay.

Golden Suns held off a late third period rally by the Saints to win 4-3 Saturday in Taber.

Rick Wentz scored from the slot to give Taber a 1-0 first period lead and also Please Turn to Page 28

Comets clinch first place in A.M.I.H.L.

St. Albert Comets, after winning their last three games by default finally got some real action and came out quite well with a pair of wins in three starts.

Tuesday, February 14, the Comets travelled to the Fort and came away with a well deserved 4-2 win with Doug Currie scoring a pair.

Wednesday, February 15 the Comets suffered their fourth loss of the season as Enoch Tomahawks handed them a 6-4 defeat.

Sunday, the Comets got back on the winning track as they scored a 4-3 win in overtime against Sherwood Park.

The pair of wins gives the Comets 31 wins in 35 starts and they have only one game left in regular season play. That is with Stony Plain Eagles on February 26 in Stony Plain.

The last regularly scheduled league game is set for February 28 with Camrose playing Drayton Valley.

as they upset the Comets 6-4 in Enoch.

Comets were never in the games as the Tomahawks led 4-1 at the end of the first and 5-4 at the end of the second.

Bob Foote, Brian Stevens, Dave Vinge and Matt Lister scored the St. Albert goals. Winquist made 31 saves and Comets took eight of 24 penalties handed out by referee Eric Patterson.

PHELAN'S HATTRICK PACES COMETS

John Phelan fired home three goals including the winner in sudden death overtime as the Comets scored a 4-3 win over Sherwood Park Barons Sunday in the Park.

JOHN PHELAN

Comets led 3-0 early in the second on a pair of goals by Phelan and Matt Lister's 26th of the season.

Barons stormed back and came up with three of their own to tie it as Gord Stewart, Ed Leigman and John Kleinschroth scored on Comet goalie Dale Henwood.

Phelan scored the winner with 2:42 gone in overtime with Don Moores and Perry Please Turn to Page 30

St Albert lacrosse in big trouble

By Bob Lane

Canada's National Sport - that's what lacrosse means to many Canadians. In St. Albert, unless a major revitalization occurs this spring, lacrosse will be only a memory. For the past few years, despite a sensational beginning, when the town produced some very fine teams, lacrosse has struggled along in the care of a handful of supporters.

Compared to the relatively mammoth support given to hockey by the Kinsmen, and the great support received by "foreign" sports like baseball and soccer, lacrosse has had to rely exclusively on the volunteer efforts of parents and contributions from interested businesses and clubs.

Last year's organizing meeting was attended by four persons, including two coaches, and yet St. Albert completed a competitive year in the Edmonton and District Lacrosse Association with peewee and bantam teams.

This year, badly in need of financial support and commitments from people to operate the St. Albert Lacrosse Association, lacrosse is at a crucial point. The faithful, who still hope to revitalize the sport in St. Albert, point out the close relationships between hockey and lacrosse. Many hockey players, including juniors and pros, play lacrosse in the off season to keep in shape.

It is a demanding sport, a body contact sport, and at its best requires great stamina and skill. In the minor leagues, however, boys and girls tend to quickly grasp the fundamental skills and it is not unusual to have bantam age players start from scratch.

An all out attempt to have St. Albert continue in the EDLA will take place Tuesday, February 28 at 8 p.m. at Mission Clubhouse. Organizers, coaches and sponsors will be sought, and persons even remotely interested are urged to attend. Further information may be obtained by calling Bob or Gail Lane at 458-2155.

Juvenile tournament in Calahoo

The Calahoo Canadiens juvenile hockey club are holding an eight-team tournament this weekend in Calahoo with the proceeds going to the team and the Calahoo Sports Association.

The double knockout event will get underway at 12 noon on Saturday with Westlock played Drayton Valley.

At 2 p.m. it will be Ledue and Morinville and at 4 p.m. Wabamun will meet the St. Albert Generals.

The final draw of the day will go at 6 p.m. with Calahoo playing Athabasca.

A disco dance will be held upstairs in the arena and will start about 9 p.m.

Sunday's draw will start at 10 a.m. with the winners of the first two games playing. The losers of the first two games play at 12 noon.

Semi-final play will be at 2 and 4 p.m., with the "B" final slated for 6 p.m. and the "A" final at 8 p.m. on Sunday.

Trophies will be awarded to the top two teams and medallions will be given out to most valuable players in each game.

The last place Taber

St. Albert Junior Saints lost a close 4-3 decision to Taber Golden Suns Saturday night in Taber but still remain in first place in the seven team Alberta Junior "A" Hockey League. Mark Messier (11) and Gerard Jubinville (20) came close to scoring on this play but couldn't beat the Suns netminder.

Saints games in old arena

Due to lack of ice in the new Akinsdale Arena, the St. Albert Junior Saints game with Edmonton Crusaders tonight, and games with Taber and Pincher Creek on the weekend, will be played in the old arena.

If all goes well it is hoped that the new facility will be ready for the February 28 game with Fort Saskatchewan.

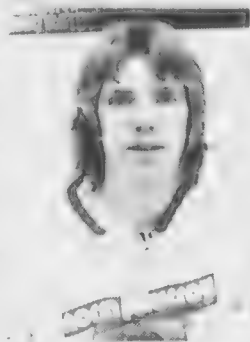

Blue's Chris MacDougall stole the ball and scored an easy two point lay-up leaving the guilty Fort Saskatchewan player to watch helplessly. The Paul Kane Blues went on to defeat the Fort Hornets 75 - 63 in overtime.

Raiders "bomb" two more towns

The St. Albert Integrated Building Raiders chalked up two easy victories last week in Highway 14 Midget hockey action. A week ago Tuesday at the St. Albert Arena, the Raiders blasted Fultonvale 17-8 and then thumped Tofield 11-2 Saturday.

Rob Tooth led the Raider attack against Fultonvale with four goals and three assists in a match that saw St. Albert go ahead 10-2 after the first 20 minutes. Cliff Greening, Keith Heyburn and Jim Sawchuk each finished the night with two markers and three assists. Murray Pennington, Kurt Bokenfohr, and Shane Antoniuk also added two each, with Dave Lacroix rounding out scoring in the "football score" game.

Antoniuk, Sawchuk, Lacroix and Parayko gave St. Albert a 4-1 lead. Tooth and defenceman Daryl Turnbull added two more in the second, while the visitors could only manage to turn on the light once. Heyburn, Tooth, Greening and Lacroix's pair completed the romp in the final stanza.

Dave Lacroix was the big gun in the tussle with Tofield as the Raider's captain picked up five points including his first hat trick in league action. First period goals by Tooth and Galbraith shared the New York Steak House award on Tuesday, while Lacroix earned first star with his hustle against Tofield ... The Raiders, despite two easy wins, could be entering playoffs "in low gear," unless a couple of exhibition games against some stiff opposition can straighten things out.

Scorpions host

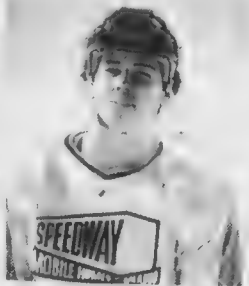

Fort McMurray Saturday

The second game of a two-game total goal series will be played this Saturday night in Calahoo between the hometown Scorpions and Fort McMurray. McMurray holds a one-goal lead as a result of their 3-2 win Sunday afternoon in Fort McMurray.

Scorpions trailed all the way as Fort McMurray led 1-0 at the end of the first period and 2-1 at the end of the second.

John Kekotilo and Jay McGeough scored for the Scorpions.

Should the Scorpions win Saturday's game they would then advance to the "C" final between the winner of a series between Edmonton Speedy's and Peace River.

Others include the Quarter Horse Show, March 28 - 30, the Stock Show and Sale, March 26 - April 1 and the Farm and Ranch Show, March 27 - 31.

Besides presenting Canadian champion cowboys in action, Superodeo guests include Earl Wharton and his trained sheep dogs, The Flying Dudes, trick-rider and classical Maguey roper - Francisco Zamora, Bruce Papon - professional bull-fighter and barrelman, and two of the funniest rodeo clowns you'll ever see, Jon Taylor and Bob Romer. JR. SAINTS HOCKEY ACTION Saints have just returned from a fairly successful three game road trip that saw them win 7-4 in Calgary and 5-3 in Pincher Creek. Their only loss came in Taber, Friday night by a 4-3 score.

Saints are now into their final eight games of the Alberta Junior "A" Hockey League schedule and six of those games are at home.

The out of town games have very little travel involved as they play the Edmonton Crusaders in Edmonton, March 2 and at the Fort on March 5.

The home games will see each of the A.J.H.L. clubs coming to St. Albert one more time.

Tonights game with the Crusaders will be their ninth meeting of the season with each club winning four times. Actually the Saints have won five games but their January 18 4-3 win was reversed and given to Edmonton, as Saints apparently used an ineligible player.

Saints have outscored the Crusaders 40 to 38 with Mark Messier and Darrell Morrow leading the way with five goals and four assists each.

Pincher Creek will be here Saturday, and Sunday it will be the Taber Golden Suns.

REMEMBER ... "For the best in Junior hockey" follow the Saints and "For the Best in Moving" go the Western Moving Way.

Question - When buying a tent, would you say a sewn in floor was a necessity?

Answer - Nearly so. Some few individuals may disagree, but most believe that it is.

The benefits of a sewn in tent floor are fairly obvious. It provides a cleaner interior while keeping out cold drafts and small varmints of all kinds.

Another point is that a tent with a sewn in floor is more stable in high winds because it prevents the wind from entering under the tent walls.

Question - My high school archery instructor says 30 yards is the maximum range at which even an experienced hunter should shoot game. He says beyond 30 yards the effectiveness of the arrow and the skill of the archer are both greatly diminished. It seems to me a lethal shot could be made at considerably longer distances if the archer is skilled. Am I right in this thinking?

Burt A.

Answer - The maximum effective range depends upon the size of the target. Naturally, the smaller the target, the less the range.

On deer size targets, an experienced archer may be reasonably effective out to about 40 yards, if conditions are favorable. A strong wind, rain, moving game, and cramped shooting conditions, all shorten the distance. Game has been shot at much greater distances, but the chance of inflicting a non-fatal injury is much greater.

The archer should be reasonably aware of his abilities and should not risk a shot that is beyond his skill. It is cruel to cripple or maim an animal needlessly and is not indicative of a sportsman.

Warm weather and slushy track conditions proved a bit treacherous for some contestants at the ninth annual North-Am snowmobile races held in Wetaskiwin. In the above photo, Dick Geurtsen of Lone Butte, lost control of his Ski-doo coming out of turn two in the 340 Super Modified A main race. While some racers didn't keep on track in the weekend affair, Dennis Clarke of Edmonton, driving a Yamaha, had a field day collecting $2,305.00 for his four first prize finishes. While Clark took top honours in Super Modified 441, Modified Stock III, Modified Stock II and Super Modified 340, his grasp for the Mark Ten Super Modified 440 feature race was broken by Dan Tucker of Idaho. Tucker, driving a Ski-doo, outran Clarke to the finish line to win the coveted Mark Ten race, and Clarke, two meters behind, had to settle for second.

Free-throwers in zone finals Saturday

Winners from the St. Albert and Morinville Basketball Free Throw competitions held recently will meet to decide who will advance from the Zone in further competition.

The competition for girls and boys has a starting time of 12:30 in the gyms at Sir George Simpson Junior High School this Saturday.

Weight lifting demonstration this Saturday

A weight lifting demonstration will be conducted in Father Jan Junior High School on Mission Avenue this Saturday from noon until 2 p.m.

The demonstration put on by St. Albert resident Max Baer and other members of the Alberta Weight Lifters Association in conjunction with the City of St. Albert is aimed at determining interest in forming a club in St. Albert.

Mr. Baer has obtained use of Alberta Weight Lifters Association equipment for the demonstration which is open to residents 10 years and up.

Following the demonstration Mr. Baer will remain to talk to interested persons and take names and addresses for city use in determining whether such a program would be feasible. If it is deemed that there is a great enough desire for a program in St. Albert the city will set up a program.

Any interested persons are invited and encouraged to attend.

Mercier on Fitness

REALIZING THE NEED

Richard P. Mercier
Recreation Program Supervisor

Why do people who have avoided exercise for so long, start to exercise?

One day you find you're not in charge of your life anymore. You've been overcome by your job, your family responsibilities, the need to pay your bills. On that particular day, you've noticed while shaving or making up your face that your shoulders, which once were muscular and well set, are now bony and sagging. Everything in your body has seemed to have moved down to the centre of your frame. One of your closest friends has just died of a heart attack. Or, you've gone outside to climb a hill or romp with your children, play catch or tennis and within a few minutes you're out of breath.

From one or all of these indications, you've decided to do something about your condition. Even if all you do is decide to use stairs everyday to go up a few floors, rather than the elevator, you will probably notice the difference (depending on your state of fitness at the time).

One small change in a daily pattern will work wonders. The basic theory used to read "Hard exercise is necessary to maintain good physical condition." But dramatic changes can occur just by altering one habit.

Quite often this one modified habit leads to more changes. Possibly moderation in smoking, drinking, and junk food habits. One increment in a persons life can alter their philosophical view about personal maintenance.

If you make an investment in exercise, it makes you conscious of other reasonable health habits.

You're not about to waste your investment!

To Your Health!

Alberta Winter Games

The countdown for the Alberta Winter Games is on, the target is Medicine Hat and the dates are March 1 - 5, 1978. Medicine Hat has organized an action packed week of sports events, special exhibitions and entertainment.

The 2nd Alberta Winter Games will commence 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 1 with the pagantry, excitement and symbolism of the official opening ceremonies. Following the Parade of Athletes, entertainment and the Lighting of the Torch, the Hon. J. Allan "Boomer" Adair, minister of Recreation, Parks and Wildlife will declare the the 1978 Alberta Winter Games officially open.

The Alberta Winter Games will provide a showcase for Alberta athletes, both young and old. Athletes ranging in age from 13 to Senior Citizens will be participating in one of 19 sporting events, including badminton, bowling, boxing, ladies curling, fencing, figure skating, boys hockey, judo, karate, racquetball, alpine skiing, cross country skiing, speedskating, table tennis, volleyball, weightlifting and wrestling.

Seniors are also a part of Alberta Winter Games as signified by Ladies Curling. A minimum age of each curler must be 50 and the four players must total 210 years.

Special exhibitions are arranged for athletes to see the level which can be achieved.

In figure skating, exhibition will be 15 of Alberta's top skaters: in dance, pairs and singles, including Brian Pocker, Alberta and Western Division Senior Men's Champ Cathy MacFarlane, Western Division Senior Ladies Champ wand Peggy McLean, Alberta Senior Champ.

There will be a demonstration of Olympic Level Gymnastics by a top competitive group from Calgary. They will be exhibiting a combination of floor routines, dance and apparatus. Olympic boxing contender, Carmen Rinke, will be one of the Games highlights. Rinke is a Southern Albertan who has won numerous Canadian titles and has competed in the Olympics and British Empire Games. Rinke lost in a controversial split decision to the East German who won the gold medal in the British Empire Games.

Seniors again come into play with Oldtimers Hockey, with the Medicine Hat team competing against the Calgary Buffalos.

Besides activity, encouragement and fun for competitors, there will be exceptional entertainment for the spectators. All Albertans are urged to enjoy themselves in Medicine Hat, cheering the competitors, March 1 - 5, 1978.

Barons battle for league lead

The St. Albert Sportshop Barons are in the thick of a tight race for first place in their league standings with competition from Sherwood Park and Red Deer.

In St. Albert on February 13 the locals bested the Wetaskiwin Kinsmen to the tune of 5-0 to gain two points in this tight league standing. Pat Quaghebeur and Brian Shaw each scored twice while Troy Murray added a single. Murray and Shaw also added two assists each in this relatively low scoring game. Cam Sebastian in goal for the locals earned the shutout.

In a big game played at the St. Albert Arena the Barons gained first place by defeating their closest rivals, Sherwood Park Bishop Machinery, to the tune of 8-2. Brian Shaw led the scoring with five goals with singles going to Chris Stewart, Mike Taschereau, and Breen Neeser. Chris Stewart added to his points for the evening with three assists while Troy Murray also gained ground in the point parade with four assists. Todd Murray had a good night in the nets for the locals and was pressured at times by the hard skating visitors from Sherwood Park.

An illegal stick call by the Barons against Sherwood Park resulted in the loss of a goal in the second period. It seemed to demoralize the visitors who were completely blanked in the third frame.

In a game at Red Deer the Barons were bested 7-2 by the Red Deer Optimist Chiefs. It was a severe blow to their chances for a first place finish in the league. Steve Aldred scored both goals for the Barons in a losing cause. Two Barons players were ejected in the third period for fighting which didn't help. They only had 15 skaters dressed. This game marked the return of Sonny Gramlich after a short absence from the club.

The Barons had another big scoring night at Wetaskiwin on Sunday the 19th of February, blanking the home standing Wetaskiwin Kinsmen Kings to the tune of 11-0. Sonny Gramlich paced the club with three goals with the other eight goals scored by Brian Shaw, Pat Poulin, Dave Kreway, and Steve Aldred (two each). Todd Murray was in goal to earn the shutout in a cleanly played game where only five minor penalties were called, three against the Barons.

The Barons are suffering a severe rash of injuries with Mike Taschereau, Scott McIntyre and goalie Cam Sebastian presently out of the line-up with an assortment of injuries. This leaves only 12 regulars in the current line-up and a full 60 minute effort will be required by the remaining players for a strong finish to end the league schedule.

On February 20 the Barons played host to the Red Deer Optimist Chiefs and in this re-match of the previous Saturdays game they came out winners by a 9-3 score. The score was tied two-all at the end of two periods in this fast skating, hard hitting contest. About midway of the third period Troy Murray scored the fourth Baron goal and seemed to rejuvenate the home standing club who played fine offensive hockey and scored five more goals in rapid succession.

Brian Shaw was added to the injury list in the third period when he slid into the boards on a breakaway, breaking a small bone in his left wrist.

GARNET CLARK

Breen Neeser led the scoring with three goals, followed by Dave Kreway's two goal effort and singles went to Pat Quaghebeur, Troy Murray, Garnet Clark, and Steve Aldred.

This win kept the Barons hopes alive for a possible first place finish and the club was much deserving of their win over their Red Deer rivals. All players have displayed much heart and desire and are contributing a maximum effort while the club is riddled with injuries.

The Barons next home game is Friday, February 24 at the arena at 7:30 p.m. when the Camrose club will be the visitors. It is hoped that all parents and fans will be out to support this hard-working club who are fighting hard in the home stretch for a first place finish in their league.

Marnie Ross of St. Albert added a feminine touch to the Kinsmen Skate-a-thon, held last Sunday in the old arena. 7 year old Marnie was skating for 5¢ a lap and was hoping to make all 100 laps. (Photo by Al Popil)

Zuke's overtime goal puts Oilers in third

Mike Zuke's 18th goal of the season was a big one coming in sudden death overtime Sunday night to give the Oilers a come-from-behind 4-3 win over Indianapolis Racers and sole possession of third spot in the World Hockey Association.

MIKE ZUKE

Oilers are now one point up on fourth place Houston Aeros who also won 3-2 over Birmingham Bulls Saturday night.

Quebec Nordiques are in a tail spin and are now 10 points behind the Oilers while the New England Whalers are only eight points in front.

Winnipeg Jets are on a 12 game winning streak and are in first place with 78 points, 16 ahead of Edmonton.

Oilers also won Friday night as they defeated the Nordiques 6-4 with Brett Callighen scoring the winner late in the third period.

Houston Aeros will be in town for a pair of games, tonight and on Friday.

The last game in the Oilers eight-game February home stand will be Sunday against the New England Whalers.

Oilers do not have a favourable schedule in March. They have six games in the Coliseum and 10 on the road, plus a game with the Finnish Nationals on the 21st.

scored on a deflection from the point early in the second for a 2-0 lead.

Rick Weist made it 3-0 for the Suns midway through the second on another deflection from the point that Saints goalie Ken Bales had no chance on.

Saints came to life in the final minute of the period with Solheim and Keith Hertz scoring nine seconds apart to get the Saints back into the game.

Taber took a 4-2 lead at 1:51 of the third with a hard shot from the point and it proved to be the winner. The Saints could only manage one more with Mickey Volcan scoring at 8:37 on the power-play.

Saints coach Doug Messier pulled Bales in the last minute and although they had three or four good chances they could not get it by Lee Pickett in the Taber goal.

Following the game the Saints bused back to Lethbridge where they ate their after-game meal in the Marquis Hotel. Some of the players took part in a sing-song. Pierre Lamoureux, Bruce Jacobson, Darrell Morrow, Mickey Volcan and Dean Dachyshyn all proved that they have a far greater career playing hockey than on the stage.

The hour's entertainment provided continuous laughter from the audience and also helped to block out the loss to the Suns.

Who says kids can't lose and have fun after! The Saints did!

INCH BLOWS OUT CHINOOKS

Rookie Dave Inch had his best game as a Saint skating both ways throughout the game and coming up with a pair of goals. He was named the first star of the game.

Inch opened the scoring at 7:22 of the first period from a Chinooks scored a power-play goal with Todd Berreth beating Lamoureux at 15:45 with Saints two men short.

Mike Moskalyk went off for hooking at 3:10 and at the same time Mark Messier was caught with too much curve on his stick. He also went off for two minutes. It's not the first time that Messier has been caught with an illegal stick and one of these stupid penalties is going to cost the Saints dearly.

Inch scored his second of the night at 17:12 from close in and at 16:25 Moskalyk made amends with a tip in goal to put Saints out in front 4-1.

Stan McGee and Greg Stemmler scored in the final minute of the period to put the Chinooks only one behind going into the final period.

Darrell Morrow scored the final goal of the game early in the period to give St. Albert a 5-3 win and a three point lead in the Alberta Junior "A" Hockey League.

Life insurance and annuity benefit payments to Canadians rose from $1.9 billion in 1975 to $2.2 billion in 1976.

Canadians hold an average of $11,000 life insurance per person. That figure represents a greater per capita amount of life insurance than in any other country in the world.

Rare military display boat show highlight

A firearm used against the Americans in the War of 1812 will be displayed at the Edmonton Boat, Trailer and Sport Show, March 8 thru 12, at the Exhibition Grounds.

The musket, commonly called the "Brown Bess," was used by the 15th Battalion Nova Scotia Militia K38.

It is part of a fabulous collection of rifles, handguns, swords, uniforms and other artifacts called "175 Years of Canadian Military."

The collection, presented by Edmonton's Allan Kerr, is the most complete display anywhere of Canadian military weapons and accoutrements.

This 100-foot-long display will be featured in The Gardens during the five day Boat and Trailer show.

Rifles on display will include the Brunswick, made in 1888; the Lancaster, Circa 1856; the Star Carbine purchased by the Canadian Army from the United States following the American Civil War; First World War Lee-Enfields, and the P17 and P14 Enfields; two grenade launching rifles, and models used in the Second World War and the Korean conflict.

The rarest rifle in the collection is the EM2, which was a Canadian copy of a British rifle invented in the 1950's. The calibre is 7mm high velocity. The Canadian government made only 10 of these firearms and put them through tests before finally adopting the FN rifle.

The uniforms range from those worn in the late 1800's, through both world wars and the Korean confrontation, to the present. A model will be shown, wearing Second World War battle dress and complete in every detail.

Kerr's collection of 23 swords includes one used by the Edmonton Militia in the 1800's, and another from the War of 1812.

The display will also show cap badges, medals, telescopes, bayonets, knives, war posters, etc.

Kerr, who began collecting military artifacts in 1962, says the display offers a "fascinating glimpse of Canadian history."

The Boat and Trailer show, occupying both the Coliseum and the Gardens, will be open from 6 to 10:30 p.m., on the opening two days; from 1 to 10:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, and from 1 to 6 p.m. on the closing day.

Prevention key to servival

Prevention should be an important word in your winter dictionary. Dressing warmly, using the buddy system for the detection of frostbite when outdoors, and keeping stairways and sidewalks clear of ice all help to prevent injuries from happening. Keeping your car in good condition is important in the winter; someday it might even make a great difference to you.

Cars need extra winter gear too. Snow tires, anti-freeze, flares, sand, windshield scraper and even an empty gasoline can and a siphon hose should be considered standard equipment. If you were stranded on a little used road, even within the city, an extra blanket or sleeping bag, candles for warmth and hard candy could make a huge difference, yet they do not take up much room. Instead of putting away your sleeping bags in the basement this year, store them in the trunk of your car. Remember, it doesn't take too long to get frostbitten and it doesn't require extreme temperatures to suffer from exposure to hypothermia.

St. John Ambulance recommends that you carry a first aid kit in your car at all times and that you take their first aid course to be prepared for injuries at any time of the year. Last year alone a quarter of a million Canadians took a St. John Ambulance first aid course. Isn't it about time you did?

Ownership of life insurance by Canadians increased by about 17 percent in 1976 to a record $257.2 billion. This compares with a 16.5 percent growth rate in 1975.

In terms of national income, Canadians rank third in life insurance ownership behind the citizens of the United States and Japan.

BROWN BESS - Edmonton firearms expert Allan Kerr is shown above with a "Brown Bess," a musket rifle used in the War of 1812. It is part of a fabulous collection entitled "175 Years of Canadian Military" which will be on display at the Edmonton Boat, Trailer and Sport Show, March 8 thru 12, at the Exhibition Grounds.

Blair MacDonald (14) of the Edmonton Oilers gets a birds-eye view of a goal by team-mate Mike Zuke (behind goalie) in the Oilers 6-4 win over Quebec Nordiques Friday night at the Coliseum. Oilers were behind 3-1 at one time but fought back with five third period goals to win.

Bantam Sabres involved in two playoffs

The Territorial Leasing Sabres have advanced to the second round of league playoffs against Sherwood Park by dumping Vegreville two straight in a three-game series.

The Sabres will also begin the first round of Provincial "A" playoff action against Leduc this weekend.

Vegreville was in the game last Saturday until the teams skated onto the ice for the third period. St. Albert pulled out all the stops in a seven-goal onslaught enroute to a convincing 10-2 win.

Scoring for St. Albert were P. Kelly, B. Hammett and M. Poulin (two goals each), and D. O'Neill, B. Weller, J. Owen and D. White with singles.

On Sunday the Sabres hosted the Great West Life Bantam AA team from Edmonton in Calahoo.

The Sabres were hustling in this exhibition match and were leading 3-0 at the end of the first period.

Two goals in the second and another three-goal effort in the third gave the Sabres a well earned 8-3 victory.

Mitch Poulin was credited with a hat trick and Rick Gray knotted a pair. Singles went to B. Weller, P. Kelly and B. Hammett.

Goaltending duties were shared by Chris Donnelly and J. Sexsmith as they were in the Vegreville game.

The Sabres are now looking to a big weekend. They travel to Sherwood Park Thursday for the first game in the second round of league playoffs. On Saturday they open up their provincial playoffs in Leduc. Then on Sunday Sherwood Park meets the Sabres here in St. Albert for a game at 7:30 p.m. The Sabres fourth game in five days will be played Monday night in St. Albert when Leduc is here for the second game of the two game total goal series. A third game in the Sherwood Park best-of-three series will be played in the Park if necessary.

Although the Sabres have not won a game against either team this season, the games have been close and the St. Albert boys are looking forward to creating a couple of upsets.

The Leduc game has a 6:15 start Saturday and the return match in St. Albert goes Monday night at 7:30.

Winning the Leduc series would give the Sabres the right to travel to Lethbridge on the March 25 weekend for the Provincial finals.

It looks to be an excellent weekend to get out and support the boys in their quest for a longer season.

Scoring and goaltending records are not complete due to some game sheets not being received yet. Final date for teams playing make-up games is Thursday, February 23 as playoffs are scheduled to start on Friday, February 24.

Standings are not final as Calahoo has make-up games with Alexander and Riviere Qui Barre and must win one of those to finish first.

Playoffs — If Calahoo ends up in first place they would get a bye into playoff final. Morinville would then play Bon Accord in a best of three series with Legal and Onoway also playing in a best of three. Gibbons also receive a bye for finishing first in the East Division. The two winners would then play a best of five series. For results of all playoff games, listen to C.F.C.W. as this station will carry all scores and playoff information.

Signs of exposure

If you should see someone stumbling, shivering and with slurred speech, chances are they are not drunk, but suffering from cold exposure. Other signs are irritability, impaired vision, cramps and slow physical and mental response. It is essential to provide this person with shelter and warmth using blankets, campfires or body heat from others and to get him indoors as soon as possible. All cases of prolonged exposure to cold must be considered serious and in urgent need of medical attention, warns the St. John Ambulance Brigade.

Edmonton Midget All-Star, Rick Swann, scored his first two goals on this play as the All-Stars downed the Sherwood Park Knights, 7-1. The game last Sunday at Santa Rosa arena was a prelude to the upcoming international match which will have the All-Stars facing the Soviet Union, Thursday, February 23 in the Coliseum.

Horse Hill News

By Esther Wallbank

The Valentine dance and smorgasbord was held as planned and although not as well attended as usual was enjoyed by those present. The efforts of those who worked hard to make it a success are much appreciated. Don't forget the Community League meeting on Tuesday, February 28 at 8 p.m. at the Community League facility.

The deadline for buying your memberships at the reduced rate of $5 is fast approaching. As of March 1, it will be available at the regular $6 cost. If you haven't been approached and haven't as yet purchased yours, please forward your request to Treasurer Mary Ann Duggan at R.R. 6 Edmonton.

An evening course in quilting is proposed to start in April. If interested please call your Community contacts at 973-5783 or 998-2739.

The primitive weaving course starting Monday, February 27 from 7:30 - 10 p.m. will be held at the home of Peggy Wenzel, north of the school. If further information is required or directions are needed, call Peggy at 973-5783.

Families from the area thoroughly enjoyed the Appreciation Night sponsored by Gib Paradis, UFA Co-op Bulk Dealer at Gibbons Hall on Tuesday, February 14. The Walt Disney film "The Computer Wore Tennis Shoes" was followed by a lunch which was also thoroughly enjoyed.

The Hornets winning streak ended Thursday with a loss to the Gibbons Indians, but they hope that another has begun with the win over Namao by a score of 4-0 on Sunday. The next two games are Thursday, February 23 at 8 p.m. vs. the Coronado Cougars and Wednesday, March 1 at 8 p.m. vs. Namao. The team was pleased that three of their members were named for an all-star team chosen from league teams for an exhibition game vs CFB Namao. This game will probably take place at the base on March 14 at 8 p.m. Players chosen were Jerry Mullen and David Speer.

Rose Finvers, R.N. visits Calahoo W.I

The first meeting of Calahoo Women's Institute, in this new year, was held in Calahoo, at the Gazebo on January 24 starting at 1 p.m. with all members present.

A welcome visitor was Mrs. Madeline Brown of St. Albert. We were delighted to have her join this group this day, bringing our membership back up to 17 members.

This pleasant meeting was called to order by our newly elected president, Mrs. F. Isabell Wheatley and the minutes were read by our new secretary, Mrs. Tom (Laura) Campbell, both from Onoway.

Our capable treasurer is Mrs. G. Elsie Berry, of R.R. 1 St. Albert and so the meeting was underway.

The letter from our constituency convenor Mrs. Isabell Wheatley, was read informing the group of the forthcoming constituency conference which will be held in Calahoo this year on Wednesday, May 3.

A letter from Mr. Keyes of the St. Albert Sturgeon Hospital was also read, giving a list of the hospital's needs so this group will continue to help with sewing.

We also received a letter from the Alberta Historical Foundation and an invitation to Calahoo W.I. to attend a meeting of several groups hosted by Onoway W.I. We were to hear our new Provincial President, Mrs. Marie Plazier of Peace River speak and show slides on the Associated Country Women of the World. (A.C.W.W.) convention she attended last October. The meeting was to be held February 2 in Onoway United Church basement.

Under new business, two motions were made and carried. One was to donate $200 to the Provincial Office Fund and the other was to buy a block when the telephone was in progress to aid crippled children.

Laura Campbell was presented with an A.W.I. pin for her first year of perfect attendance.

HEALTH UNIT NURSE SPEAKS

Then hostess Addie Thatcher introduced the guest speaker, Rose Finvers, R.N. of the Sturgeon Health Unit, who gave a detailed description along with slides, on the causes of hypertension and high blood pressure.

As this W.I. was interested in having a blood pressure clinic held in Calahoo, we asked Mrs. Finvers to help make this a reality.

The tentative date for the clinic is Wednesday, April 26 in conjunction with the Goldenagers meeting in the Gazebo.

Mrs. Emelia Schmermund was presented with a card and a vase with three yellow silk roses as well as wishes for a complete return to good health after her two weeks stay in hospital.

The roll call, "Bring Your Used Stamps and Christmas Cards" was answered by all members and Mrs. V. Betty Albrecht was to deliver them for us.

The door prize brought by Mrs. Alice Schmermund, was won by Betty Albrecht.

The gentlemen, John Thatcher, Fred Brown, Myles Kerr, Vic Albrecht, Carl Bergstreiser, Fred Wheatley and Pete McLeod, enjoyed their visit, and helped out by hanging the picture of Her Majesty, The Queen in the Gazebo. Peter Elzinga MP for Pembina gave the picture to this group.

The next meeting of Calahoo W.I. will be held in the Gazebo on Tuesday, February 28 with Mrs. Carl Lina Bergstreiser, the hostess.

The topic will be "The Heart," and the roll call will be "Put A Cover On Your Program Booklet" which you received at the January meeting. Isabell Wheatley is to be thanked for typing out these program books.

Visitors are always welcome!

Calahoo Goldenagers hold whist drive

By Liz McLeod

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the senior citizens of Calahoo, was held in the Gazebo on Wednesday, January 25 in the afternoon with a small crowd on hand to enjoy togetherness and fun.

Despite the snowfall, there were enough for four tables of whist. Members enjoyed the cards while visiting.

John Groppe emerged the winner with the highest score while Mrs. Lina Bergstreiser and Mrs. Helen Radjo shared the consolation prize.

It was decided not to play bingo so all enjoyed the lunch hour. Mrs. Carl Bergstreiser was honored on her birthday which was January 24th.

The February 8 meeting was cancelled due to the blowing snow so the forthcoming meeting will be on Wednesday, February 22 at 1 p.m. in the Gazebo, pending the weather that is.

Visitors are always welcome.

Land changes hands in Morinville

Morinville council gave the o.k. for a land exchange between the parish council and the Thibault school division at its regular council meeting February 16.

Involved in the land exchange are four acres of church land and seven of school land.

The parish council had four acres of land adjacent to the sports ground and wanted to exchange this so the Thibault School Board would have a land bank for a future elementary school.

In its turn the school board has promised they would give the parish council seven acres of land north of the Georges P. Vanier School and west of the cemetery.

Morinville has agreed that the church should be able to trade its seven acres at a later date, in exchange for four acres in a future residential development in Morinville.

Development of Cardiff Park discussed

Now that much of the reclamation work at the Cardiff Park seems completed, the public may be given some chance for directing the park's future development, it was revealed at the regular meeting of the MD of Sturgeon last week.

Also, the MD of Sturgeon decided to make a $4,000 contribution to a Young Canada Works program for the park this summer, the total worth of the program being close to $12,000.

The program will give about six young people work for four months this summer. They will look after regular maintenance, garbage, tree planting, further clearance of bush, and the development of a trail system in the park for hiking and cross country skiing.

Reeve of the MD Bill Flynn felt that much of the reclamation work at the park was complete and that now the park was going into the area of development.

Deputy Reeve Lawrence Kluthe suggested that future development of the park might be given the chance of some input from the public.

A final motion passed was that the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Board should be requested to explore the options for the Cardiff Park and "assemble the information for the purposes of going to the public with the number of alternatives for this development."

Morinville gives $200 for Board of Trade brochure

Morinville council decided to cough up $200 into the kitty for a Board of Trade brochure which is designed to give some publicity to Morinville.

The $200 contribution was made at the regular council meeting February 16.

The Morinville Board of Trade is preparing the brochure.

The Board of Trade had asked council if it would make the contribution and allow for Morinville's logo to be on the brochure.

The brochure will be set off with a picture of the St. Jean Baptiste Church on the front. The church is a registered historic site and has been since 1974.

In the brochure will be general information about

Morinville, with information about its clubs and social facilities, the emphasis not being commercial.

COUNCIL DEFERRED an application from Deville Estates for a 36 suite apartment building in conjunction with a planned parking area for 53 cars. The application has previously been approved in principle, but was deferred till council gives third reading to bylaw 2/78. That bylaw was given first reading at the meeting last week and amends zoning bylaw 10/75 by zoning lots h & i from commercial to multi-residential. Site for the proposed apartment block is on the land previously occupied by what is known locally as the old slaughter house.

Camp "Encounter" nears reality

An all-seasons camp for young people in northern Alberta for outdoor education, recreation and religious education looks like becoming a reality near Lac La Nonne about 15 miles north of Onaway.

The camp will be known as Camp Encounter and is the result of detailed planning and preparation by the Archdiocese of Edmonton Camp committee.

The Archdiocese has offered a 97 acre parcel of land at Lac La Nonne for the camp and included in the package is 33 acres on an island for

Winds of change blow at Cunningham School

Proposed renovations at the Morinville Cunningham School might leave the school looking brighter, but at the moment it means three offices are getting the boot, to make way for the Sturgeon School Division.

As it is, the Sturgeon School Division will make the move into the new premises first and will be vacating its present location in the basement of the MD buildings in Morinville, once the renovations are complete.

With the wind of change at the Cunningham school, the Sturgeon Regional Recreation offices will have to vacate by April 1, even though the MD of Sturgeon does not seem to know for sure where Sturgeon Regional Rec. will go.

The same deadline seems to apply to two other clients in the Cunningham school, Alberta Hail and Crop Insurance and a poultry specialist.

It looks as though the Sturgeon Regional Recreation staff will get settled into new premises soon enough and at the regular meeting of the MD of Sturgeon last week, it was suggested that the Morinville Historical Society had expressed an interest in the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Board moving into the Notre Dame convent facility. This could be on a permanent basis. But because the convent is set for official designation as a historic site, this might require ministerial approval.

No one knows where they are going to end up at the moment but a special meeting of the MD today might decide the fate at least of Sturgeon Regional Recreation.

A spokesman for Alberta Hail and Crop Insurance, who have been in the Cunningham School about three and a half years said she didn't know where the office would go. "I don't know, maybe a tent," she said.

Also at the regular meeting of Sturgeon last week it was suggested that Sturgeon Regional Recreation might be able to locate in the lower floor of the MD building.

Superintendent of Sturgeon Regional Recreation Larry Kirkpatrick said he'd like to come into (the lower floor) right away, but that seems difficult as the Sturgeon School Division cannot

Sunday school may start at Calahoo

By Liz McLeod

Attention all parents in Calahoo and district, would you like to have your children, three years old and over, attend a Sunday School class to be held in the Gazebo?

Mrs. Donna Watson and Mrs. Sherylyn Quintal, of Calahoo, would like to start a Sunday School and have set the date for the introductory session for Sunday, February 26, starting at 10 a.m. and running to 11 a.m., with parents most welcome to attend. The regular school would start on Sunday, March 5.

These ladies would appreciate hearing from interested parents on this worthwhile venture.

The numbers to call are Mrs. Watson at 967-5148 and Mrs. Quintal at 967-2134.

Sturgeon Regional Rec. budget at $205,769

At the regular meeting of the MD of Sturgeon last week, Sturgeon council moved to accept Sturgeon Regional Recreation's 1978 budget of $205,769, 9.7 percent up on last year's budget of $185,795.75.

Superintendent of Regional Recreation Larry Kirkpatrick said the increases represented salary adjustments rather than increased positions.

He said: "Also we have to provide services for Division Eight, postage and telephone calls and we do not reap any benefits from equalized assessment."

This year's contribution to the Sturgeon Regional Recreation budget from Sturgeon will be $83,036.22. That represents a 2.37 mill rate levy based on the equalized assessment.

Morinville Seniors celebrate Valentines Day

By Dorothy Daignault

Our valentine party this year was different! A good crowd turned out with 10 tables filled for whist and four men playing pool.

The winners at whist were: first prize for women Mrs. Bernadette Ouellette and for men Mr. Hector Boissonnault. The consolation prizes were won by Mrs. Clarice Beupre, and Mr. Girard Rousseau. Mr. Oswald Chevalier won the door prize.

Our visitors were: Mrs. Mary Short, Mrs. Harvey Vranas, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Casavant, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Krauskopf and Mrs. Don Vandersteen.

Since we have a piano our amusements have changed. With Mrs. Murielle Krauskopf at the piano and Mr. Hector Boissonnault playing the violin we were able to spend the rest of the evening dancing. Mr. Bill Krauskopf called a couple of square dances.

Then we sang songs and Mrs. Margaret Pyke sang one of her old Cockney songs "All My Life I Wanted to Be a Barrow Boy." I am sure she'll sing another song for me at our St. Patrick's Day party. Then we enjoyed a delicious lunch.

I wish to thank all our entertainers on behalf of all the members of the club. It was a pleasure for us to see so many visitors and hope they will come again and we welcome all who would like to join us in an evening of fun.

Remember our St. Patrick's party will be held Wednesday, March 15 at 8 p.m.

George P. Vanier News

By Carmen Schafers and Lise Houle

There was only one junior basketball game this week, played at Bon Accord. Vanier girls won their game 22-16, while our boys had a tough game and lost 32-17. They'll have their chance to come back, when Bon Accord comes to Vanier on February 23.

Our senior basketball teams were rather disappointed, on Monday, February 13 when they went to play St. Albert High. After a couple of close games, both our boys and girls teams lost. On Wednesday, February 15, Legal visited Vanier, and the C.P.V. girls won by quite a large margin, while our boys sadly lost by one basket in the last 15 seconds.

Our senior girls did very well at the two day tournament held in Drayton Valley on February 17 and 18. After a very tiring two days, they placed second, losing to Camrose (last year's 3A champs). Keep it up, and we'll see you at provincials!

With the season coming to an end, 2A conferences will be held this week at Vanier.

They will be played on two separate nights: first, on Wednesday, February 22; then on Friday, February 24. So please come down and give the players your support.

Due to uncontrollable circumstances, the film "Lt. Robin Crusoe, U.S.N.," featuring Dick Van Dyke, will be shown on Monday, February 27 at 7 instead of Wednesday, February 8. So come and enjoy an evening of good family entertainment. Admission will be adults $2.00, students $1.50, elementary and under $1.00.

Cardiff Column

By Florence Vranas

The one-day raffle of a valentine cake, sponsored by the Cardiff Community Club was won by 10 year old Bobby Polakovits of Mearns. Mrs. John Polakovits said this was Bobby's first time at winning anything and that the large cake was enjoyed by the family and many friends.

It was decided at the club's last meeting that in the future the monthly meetings will take place the last Monday of every month. Next one scheduled will be on February 27 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Janet Clark.

Eight ladies have registered through Cardiff to attend a four week quilting course which will be held at Sturgeon Regional Rec., south of the Morinville Arena. The course begins February 21 at 7:30 p.m. and will run for four consecutive Tuesdays.

Also, March 21 and 28 have been chosen as the days to complete the primitive weaving course being held at Marilyn Weiss'. Anyone wishing to attend these two days may contact me at 939-2063. Simone Kluthe is instructing both courses.

A hearty welcome to two new families who have recently taken up residence in Cardiff. First to Brandon and Madeline Glass with sons Brandon Jr., 17; Richard 11, David 10, Kieran 9, and Peter 5 who have moved into their new home. Also to John and Caroline Ede and family who now live in the former Nouwen home.

Mrs. Barbara Schultz of Calgary is presently visiting her daughter Janet Clark and family.

John and Linda Kilian have returned from a winter vacation in California. They flew to Los Angeles from Calgary, where their children Melissa and Aaron stayed with relatives while they were gone. While in the Los Angeles area, John and Linda visited Linda's great Aunt Georgina Schan; toured Hollywood, Bel Air etc., spent two days in Santa Monica where they had many interesting experiences among which was an informative visit to Universal Studios where John was picked for a demonstration of some tricks in movie making. In Linda's words, "two super days" were spent by them at Disneyland and also Knotts Berry Farm. They did not visit Fantasyland as they want to share this experience with their children sometime in the future. The three last days John attended a seminar sponsored by his employers. The pair then flew back to Calgary, picked up their children and Linda's mother and motored home.

Linda's mother, Mrs. Hugh Maclean has recently taken up residence in Edmonton with her husband. They formerly lived in Saskatoon.

Cardiff and district wish to extend sincere sympathy to Bill and Carrie Rockwell as well as to the entire Rockwell family at the passing of Bill's brother Harold of Morinville on Saturday, February 18.

Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council News

REGIONAL RECREATION COUNCIL MEETING

At the February 13 meeting of the Sturgeon Regional Recreation Council, considerable discussion and debate resulted due to increased facility fees being charged for recreation programs. Regional Council was of the opinion that users of the facility should pickup the tab and that this fee remain within the community. In the past, Regional Recreation had been handling this; however it has become most difficult to keep track of. Therefore, a resolution to this effect was presented and it was carried.

MORINVILLE MENS'

Sunnyside News

By Lois Bowman

A great big "thank you" must go out this week to those who came out to help the Sunnyside Hall Board with its benefit dance to help the halls need to raise funds. It was a great evening and Joe and Mert Myers along with their young daughter supplied the music at no cost to the community. Thank you so much Joe and Mert. They even brought and donated records for spot dances.

Also a big thank you must go out to the ladies who donated lunch for the evening. The lunch was terrific. It seems the Hall Board came out with about a $400 profit. Thanks a million to all those who attended. We even had our own version of the "Gong" show. One of the acts was so well put on it made the others look very bad. However we'll practise for the next one - so look out you young folks!

DISCO DANCE

The Myers family are putting on another one of their dances to help the district. This one is a "Disco" dance for the young folks, 16 and under. It too should be a lot of fun and will be held on April 1 at the Hall. If you have enquiries phone Dan Harper at 973-5600. He'll be glad to give you full details.

The next monthly meeting of the ladies meeting will be held at the home of Tina Eppinga. Pat Doerksen will be our guest speaker on "Fashions," so please come and remember the meeting starts at 8 p.m. sharp.

Our deepest sympathy goes out this week to Marg and Dave Mitchell on the loss of Marg's mother - Mrs. Annie Smith. Mrs. Smith made her home in Edmonton and was 82 years old.

Also sympathy goes to George and Annie Knight. George's sister Mrs. Eva Anderson passed away in Edmonton at the age of 87 years.

"WHAT CAN I MAKE TODAY?"

Mobile feed millers set up to service Sturgeon area

Two young Sturgeon residents have set up a mobile feed milling service based in Morinville. The new service, Sturgeon Feed Milling Ltd., plans to bring milling service to the farmers within a 30 mile radius of Morinville.

Sid Kuhn and Guy Meunier have purchased two GMC 7500 diesel trucks each mounted with a Champion Mobile Feed Mill. The trucks will travel regularly scheduled routes in the district calling on customers every two weeks.

At present there are over 100 such units operating in the province although these are the only two in this area.

Any type of feed rations can be processed right on the farm. Feed for beef cattle, calves, hogs, dairy cattle, and poultry. The farmer is not required to supply any labour or start any of his equipment. The mill is backed up to the granary and sucks the grain into the mill where it is processed. Hay or straw can be chopped and blended with the grain if desired, giving complete control of the balance in the diet of cattle, calves or sows which results in a better utilization of grain and roughage, cheaper gains, no wasted feed, less risk and

"THE WORLD AROUND US"

Sturgeon Regional Recreation, in conjunction with Alberta Recreation, Parks and Wildlife will be sponsoring a one-day workshop for pre-school, nursery school and playschool instructors. The workshop will be held on Saturday, March 18 in Morinville. The emphasis will be on the out of doors and the activities and techniques that may be used in helping the child discover this. For further information, phone 939-4317. Deadline for registration is March 10, 1978.

less labour in feeding. The complete line of Astromix vitamin and mineral premixes is carried right on the mill, along with soybean meal, fresh molasses, etc.

Guy and Sid say they can do all this for less money and do the job better than the farmer can process it himself or haul his grain to a stationary plant, and save the farmer a lot of time and labour as well.

Thank You

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to Father Primeau, the organist, the choir, the altar boys and to everyone else who gave us their support during the loss of our father and grandfather.

BUY NOW, PAY LATER

Rarely does a homeowner plunk down the full price in cash. But instead of paying rent, he slowly invests in his own home. Meanwhile he is living in it.

He is also building up his equity. With each mortgage payment, he is investing for his future and that of his family; and they're all enjoying the benefits of life in a fine house.

Let us show you some homes worth owning.

Frostbite is Sneaky

Frostbite can sneak up on you even while you are waiting a short time for a bus, especially when the wind chill factor makes the temperature colder than you expected. The frostbitten area will feel numb and will appear white and, if serious, waxy. If you suspect you are getting frostbitten ask someone near you to confirm it or check yourself in the nearest mirror. Don't hesitate to inform a stranger that they may be getting frostbitten - you will be doing them a big favor.

Frostbite can sneak up on you while you are waiting a short time for a bus, especially when the wind chill factor makes the temperature colder than you expected. The frostbitten area will feel numb and will appear white and, if serious, waxy. If you suspect you are getting frostbitten ask someone near you to confirm it or check yourself in the nearest mirror. Don't hesitate to inform a stranger that they may be getting frostbitten - you will be doing them a big favor.

Warm the frostbitten area gradually with body heat but do not rub it! If your face or ear is affected, cover it with your gloved hand until the normal colour and feeling return. Never use water - hot or cold - or snow on the frostbitten area. Remove tight boots or gloves from frozen fingers or toes to allow for circulation. Blisters should be covered lightly with a sterile dressing and bandaged carefully. If there is the slightest doubt about the severity of the frostbite, never hesitate to obtain immediate medical aid.

No vampires in Fiji

Fiji was no horror story for Vincent Price. "A beautiful place, restful and charming, and such lovely people," was the star's comment as he left Nadi Airport after a nine day filming stint.

Price and his team of ten were in Fiji filming for his television series 'The World of Vincent Price.'

The format of the series is dictated by Price's own particular interests — art, food, archaeology, and travelling rather than touring.

In Fiji, the star dived into the treasures of the Museum of Suva, participated in an impromptu kava ceremony of welcome quickly organized by one of the many tiny Fijian villages he visited (a measure of Price's own good manners and courtesy — Fijians instantly recognize these qualities and respond with a dignified ceremony), saw Fijian firewalking, and mixed easily with the people.

"We got a marvellous scene at the firewalking," he said. "At the end of the ceremony, when the stones are steaming after they've flung the damp reeds over them, we sat ourselves down in the middle of it all, and I can assure you, our rear ends were getting rather warm after a few moments. We think it'll make a wonderful shot in the show."

Highlight of each episode in 'The World of Vincent Price' is a session with a chef to prepare a local dish on camera.

The Fiji 'haute cuisine' session took place, believe it or not, on the beach. Peter Perlet, head chef of The Fijian resort hotel transferred his equipment down to the hotel's half mile long white sand beach, and prepared a meal that gourmet Price pronounced as "superb."

The two main dishes in the meal were Kokoda, raw fish marinated in limes and chillies then dressed with coconut cream, and the main dish called Ika Vakalolo, which is fillets of tender walu gently cooked in coconut cream, flavoured with onion.

Vincent Price who says he does all the cooking at home, prepared the coconut cream under chef Perlet's direction. Viewers will see Vincent Price kneading and squeezing the cream out of the fresh grated coconut and carefully straining it.

Then to the part Price says he likes best, the eating.

The meal was taken aboard a yacht moored at The Fijian to be eaten al fresco on deck. And to wash it down? "A light Riesling was perfect for this creamy fish dish and accompanying Island vegetables," said Price. "Of course, in honour of the chef, it was a German Riesling, but an Australian Riesling would be excellent too."

Treating hypothermia

According to St. John Ambulance, being cold, wet and exhausted can lead to hypothermia, a severe lowering of the body core temperature which can occur even at 5°C or 41°F. Shivering is an early sign and in the more serious stage, slurred speech, impaired judgement, weakness and a loss of co-ordination will occur. The final stage is unconsciousness. In the initial stage, changing out of your cold, damp clothing, drinking warm liquids and getting into bed should prevent the condition from becoming more serious. If a person is seriously affected, immediate medical attention is needed and he should be kept comfortable, given hot drinks and food, shelter and warmth until medical aid arrives or until he can be moved. Infants and the elderly are more susceptible to hypothermia and greater care should be taken to make sure that they are properly dressed for the elements.
